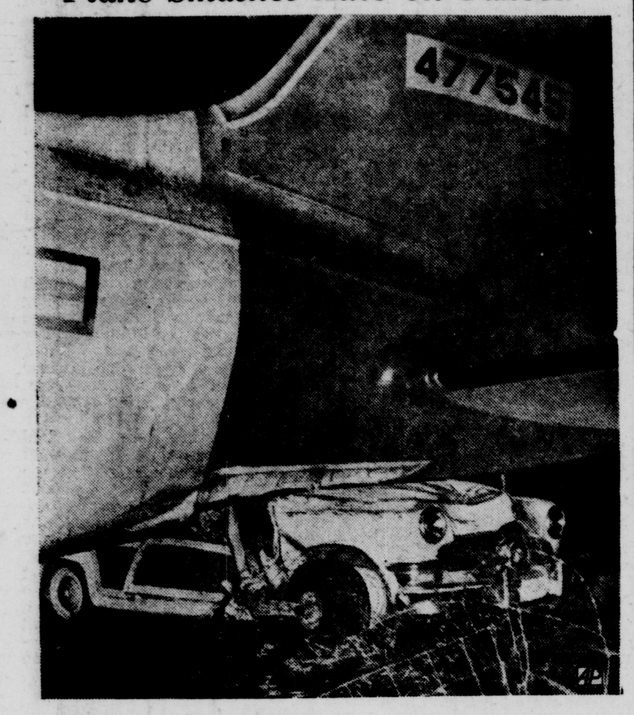
Plane Smashes Auto on Takeoff



The big tail section of an Air Force C-46 rests atop auto near Municipal Airport, Memphis, Tenn., after smashing it during failure of a takeoff. Four members of a family within car were injured. No one aboard plane was injured. Chinese Are DrivenBack In Attacks

Allies Repulse Attempts to Recapture 2 Vital Central Front Hills; Losses Run High

All-Out Try Made

Foes Employ Artillery, Mortars, Rockets and Full Regiment

Seoul, Korea, Oct. 20 (AP) — Hordes of screaming Chinese Reds charged recklessly through their own artillery fire Sunday and early today but failed in an attempt to recapture two important central front hills.

U. S. and South Korean soldiers on Triangle Hill and Sniper Ridge forced back the fanatic Communists in fierce hand-to-hand fighting.

Thunderous artillery, mortars and katusha rockets supported the Communists. Allied frontline officers estimated a full regiment —3,000 to 3,500 men— advanced on each of the hills north of Kumhwa late Sunday.

Ignoring heavy casualties, the Chinese advanced through thunderous barrages from their own and allied big guns. It was their fiercest counterattack since UN troops seized the two heights last week.

At last report, the Communists held Pike's Peak, the northwestern knob of Triangle Hill. Allied troops controlled the rest of the rocky mass.

Reds Sealed in Caves

After bitter hand-to-hand fighting, the Reds called off their attack at 9 a. m. today and holed up in bunkers and caves to the north.

An American patrol today blew up the entrances to a tunnel under Triangle Hill, burying alive 12 Reds who had refused to come out.

U. S. Seventh Division soldiers discovered the abandoned mine, more than half a mile long, four days ago. The Chinese had been using it to infiltrate allied lines.

Interpreters pleaded over loudspeakers in Chinese for the dozen Reds inside to surrender. They refused, so the order came today to seal the entrances.

Allied fighter-bombers swooped over Papa-San mountain, overlooking both hills, and unloaded tons of bombs, rockets and searing gasoline on the Communist staging area.

Early in their assault, the Communists surrounded troops of the U. S. Seventh Infantry Division on Pike's Peak. But the Americans fought their way out. They joined other U. S. troops and in a furious bayonet and grenade battle beat back Chinese who had swarmed to within 300 yards of Triangle's main crest.

Two miles to the east, the Communists advanced to the top of Pinpoint Hill, highest point on Sniper Ridge. South Korean second division troops counterattacked and drove them off.

Other Action Light

At last report the issue was still in doubt.

Action elsewhere along the 155-mile battlefront was light.

The Navy said the U. S. Destroyer Craig was straddled by a salvo from Red guns on Korea's east coast, but there were no casualties or damage.

Sixteen U. S. B-29 superforts Sunday night dropped more than 150 tons of bombs on a Red army headquarters and troop billeting areas on the central front, near Yangdok, Ponchong-and Sopo.

Says Japan Will Fight

Moscow, Oct. 20 (AP)—Pravda claimed today that the Japanese government is preparing to send units of its police reserve corps to fight in Korea. The Communist party paper said Ichiro Hatoyama, a rival to Premier Shigeru Yoshida for leadership of the dominant Liberal party, had told members of his party of the preparations.

Baruch Hits Truman on Racial Talk

Rabbi Silver Is Shocked at President's Sallies About Eisenhower and 'Master Race'

Some Support HST

All Is Well and Critics Are Wrong

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—President Truman's criticism of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on immigration policies was whipping up a swelling controversy today over racial and religious issues.

Some Republican party leaders, a leading Jewish rabbi and financier Bernard Baruch lined up on Eisenhower's side while a Democratic congressman and at least one other Jewish leader spoke out for Truman.

The controversy sprang up after a Truman statement Friday that Eisenhower "is wiling to accept the very practices that identify the so-called 'master race'."

Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, has not yet replied to Truman's statement. However, the general's headquarters here believe he will pick it up on a New England campaign trip he is starting today.

Silver Is Shocked

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, of Cleveland, visited Eisenhower here on Saturday and then told newsmen he was shocked by Truman's statement.

Yesterday Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), a Zionist leader, and Irving Abramson, executive committee member of the American Jewish Congress both criticized Silver and praised Truman.

At the same time, Baruch—elder statesman and adviser to presidents—said he certainly did not agree with Truman's remarks.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and Sen. Richard M. Nixon, the GOP vice presidential nominee, also came to Eisenhower's defense yesterday and levelled attacks at the President.

Statement Excerpts

Here are some excerpts from the various statements and remarks by those who spoke up on the issue:

Silver—"I expressed my feelings of shock (to Eisenhower) that an irresponsible statement of that character could be made. . . . The attempt, by implication, to identify a man like Gen. Eisenhower—whose humanity and broad tolerance are known all over the world—with anti-Semitism and anti-Catholicism is just not permissible even in the heat of a campaign."

Tough Job for Newspapers Cited by Pope, Who Illustrates

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—A record vote Nov. 4 is predicted by editors of some of the nation's leading newspapers who agree that this is one of the hottest presidential contests in history.

The editors, who came here for a weekend meeting of the directors of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE), said this campaign has brought more pressure on the press and more criticism from partisans of both sides than any other pre-election news coverage in memory.

Here are some of the editors interviewed:

Eisenhower Bitter Over 'Assaults'

Runs Into Snow

Weather Fails to Chill Enthusiasm of Crowds Reporter Says

By DON WHITEHEAD

Aboard the Eisenhower Special, Traveling Through Connecticut, Oct. 20 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, accused his Democratic opponents today of spreading "poison" and "fantastic lies" in an effort to defeat him in the November election.

He lashed out at the opposition as he pushed his presidential campaign into New England along the same path taken by President Truman last week. Despite swirling snow, large crowds gathered to cheer him at every stop.

It was the worst weather luck Eisenhower has had since he began campaigning — but the first snow of the season didn't chill the enthusiasm of the crowds.

Turns on Bitter Criticism

Eisenhower turned bitter criticism against the Democrats in Bridgeport, Conn., where he said there had been charges his election would mean another depression, that he could cut taxes for management but not for workers, and abolish unions.

He termed these charges lies and said:

"The opposition has resorted to the most fantastic lies and distortions."

Earlier at Stamford, he had promised that "every single bit of strength" in the nation would be mustered against another depression. And he said:

"We shall never allow such a thing to come again."

Peace With Prosperity

A sound and prosperous America is necessary if there is to be peace in the world, Eisenhower asserted, and he went on to say:

"If we are not again going to get into war we must pledge every single bit of strength there is in the United States, all the strength of private enterprise, of municipal and state governments and of the federal government against the recurrence of * * * depression."

"* * * If we are not going to have a depression, that means people must have decent wages; they must have proper Social Security programs; they must have prosperous farm programs—all of those things that put a floor of protection over the pit of disaster into which our people must not fall."

Raises Question

In his Bridgeport talk, Eisenhower said the charges levelled against him raised the question:

"Just how silly and crazy can you get in this world."

Snow began falling as his special train left New York city and it blanketed the Connecticut countryside lightly. This was the worst weather for the GOP presidential nominee since he began his campaign on Sept. 1.

Eisenhower told the Stamford crowd—estimated at about 5,000 that the great issue of the day was peace.

Eisenhower left New York at 8:20 a. m. (EST) on a three-day tour of Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

In the last two weeks of the campaign, he said, the time had come to "take stock" and he had found that among the people the great issue was peace.

Equals Truman Crowd

Walkouts Spread In Soft Coal Mines

Pittsburgh, Oct. 20 (AP) — Spreading walkouts in the two largest coal-producing states today brought the country to the brink of a nationwide strike. Nearly half the 375,000 diggers are idle.

Smarting under the government-ordered reduction in the pay boost they recently won, members of the United Mine Workers Union closed more mines in West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

At least 65,500 miners in western Pennsylvania and 1,700 in West Virginia ignored go-to-work whistles. They joined the 160,000 diggers across the nation who refused to work last week while the Wage Stabilization Board was debating the $1.90 daily pay boost.

Woodstock Artist Dies in Albany

Jenne Magafan, 35, Has Cerebral Hemorrhage; Honor Winner

Jenne Magafan, 35, considered one of the country's most brilliant younger artists who for the past several years has resided and worked at Woodstock, died in the emergency room of Albany Hospital last night where she had been taken Saturday for treatment for a cerebral hemorrhage with which she was stricken Friday night.

She was the wife of Edward Chavez with whom she was attending a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, Shady, when stricken.

Mrs. Chavez was attending a dinner party at the Taylor home in celebration of the return of Mr. and Mrs. Chavez from Italy last week. She was taken to Kingston Hospital where she passed into a coma from which she never recovered. She was taken to Albany Hospital Saturday and placed in an iron lung.

Six Persons Killed Near Colchester in Three-Car Crash

Colchester, Conn., Oct. 20 (AP)—The death toll in one of Connecticut's worst traffic accidents rose to six today.

Clifford Young, 47, of Windsor died at W. W. Backus Memorial Hospital, Norwich, of injuries received here last night in an accident which took the lives of his 15-year-old son Clifford, Jr., and four Norwich men, and seriously injured his wife and a woman companion.

The four men, all in their late twenties, badly burned when their overturned car caught fire, were not identified for several hours.

They were:

Ralph Bennett, father of one child; his brother, Robert, chief of a volunteer fire department in an outlying section of Norwich and father of two children whose wife is expecting a third; William Persheac, married but childless, and Raymond Bilodeau.

The four were returning to their homes in Norwich from a stock car race when the accident occurred.

Clifford Young, Jr., died two hours after he, his father and mother, and Mrs. Richard Camille, 42, of Gloucester, Mass., were admitted to the hospital last night.

Mrs. Margaret Young, 41, has a broken right leg and multiple abrasions and contusions. Mrs. Camille is under treatment for head injuries. Both are reported in poor conditions, their names on the hospital's critical list.

State police said the accident occurred on a straight stretch of highway three miles east of here on the Colchester-Norwich road as Ralph Bennett, who was chief of a volunteer fire department in the annex section of Norwich, tried to pass a car in front of him.

That car was driven by Leo Martin, Jr., 40, of Lisbon, who with his three passengers, escaped injury.

Police quoted Martin as saying Bennett's car hit his twice, forcing it into a highway fence, then veered to the left and ran almost directly into the oncoming car driven by Young.

Two Men Sought In Empire Holdup

Adlai Backers Say Hiss Angle Unfair

Eisenhower Aide Holds View Stevenson Is Over-Protesting

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 20 (AP) — Eight prominent supporters of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson deplore as "unfair and unwarranted" the use of the Alger Hiss case in the presidential campaign and contend Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is "more vulnerable" on this issue.

Answering attacks on Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, for what has been called his association with the convicted former State Department employe, these supporters say Eisenhower, the Republican candidate, had given "a far greater and more personal endorsement" of Hiss than had Stevenson.

In a statement Sunday, they said:

"Criticism in neither case is fair or warranted. But if there is to be criticism, General Eisenhower is more vulnerable than Governor Stevenson."

"Protest Too Much'

In New York city, an Eisenhower spokesman said Stevenson's friends "protest too much."

The Stevenson supporters noted that Eisenhower had become a member of the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace in 1948 while Hiss was president of the organization.

They added that in Dec., 1948, the board, with Eisenhower a member, declined Hiss' proffered resignation in the face of charges questioning his loyalty and voted Hiss three months leave of absence with full pay while he defended himself against the charges. The statement said Eisenhower never publicly expressed disapproval of that action.

Supporters of the General have said he did not participate in that action of the board.

Hiss was convicted of lying to a jury in denying that he ever passed state department secrets to a Communist courier. Stevenson made a deposition in Hiss' first trial, saying that so far as he had heard Hiss' reputation was good.

Both Make Issue

Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, the Republican vice presidential nominee, has attacked what he called Stevenson's "association" with Hiss. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin also has made an issue of the Hiss case in criticizing Stevenson.

In Winnetka, Ill., last week, Nixon charged in a campaign speech that Stevenson was "a man who was duped by Communist Alger Hiss and who has apparently never regretted his action in defending him (and) who has never uttered a public word of in-

Orr Says Robber Forced Him to Yield Cash in Auto

An armed masked bandit Saturday night staged the second successful holdup of an Empire Market employe within the past five months escaping with about $8,000 in cash and checks.

Police have been seeking two men for the holdup at the store in the early morning of last May 30, but the theft Saturday night was executed by a tall, dark-haired man shortly after 7 p. m., as Bernard Orr, of 141 Miller's Lane, the store's manager, was about to deposit the money in the night slot of the uptown branch of the Kingston Trust Co., at Main and Fair streets.

Didn't Use Revolver

A police report at 7:20 p. m., Saturday, said Orr was reaching for the money, which he had placed on top of a bag of groceries in his car when the armed bandit slipped into the front seat and demanded him to hand over the money.

Orr said he had a revolver in his right hand as the man got into the front seat of the car. He shifted it to his left hand, he said, and let it fall to the floor.

The bandit forced Orr to drive out of the city over Lucas avenue and ordered him out of the car at the four corners on Lucas avenue extension. The bandit then drove over the road leading into Hurley, and the car was found abandoned

Six Persons Hurt In 9W Accident South of Esopus

Three Cars Are Involved in Crash — Man Has Broken Leg; Is in Hospital

Six persons were injured, apparently none of them critically, when three automobiles collided on Route 9W a quarter-mile south of Esopus about 7:30 p. m. Saturday, state police reported.

Most seriously injured, according to the report, was Edward W. Smith, 31, of Teaneck, N. J., whose condition at Kingston Hospital today was reported as "fair." Troopers said he suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, lacerated right hand and an arm injury.

Also taken to the hospital for treatment and later released were William R. Beal, 38; his wife, Telka, 34; and daughters Jennifer, 6, and Edith, 3, all of Elmsport; and James W. Gillespie, 52, of 179 Mansion street, Poughkeepsie, state police said.

Troopers reported the accident occurred as the automobile Smith was driving was passing the Beal car, both going in a southerly direction. The two automobiles sideswiped, the Beal vehicle going off the west side of the road and overturning, and the Smith car continuing on and colliding almost head-on with a northbound vehicle driven by Gillespie, the troopers said.

The left front ends of both the Smith and Gillespie automobiles were "demolished," and the sides and top of the Beal car were damaged, according to the report. No arrest was made.

Costliest Political Campaign Will Be Ended With Biggest Fanfare; Figures Are Suggested

By ARTHUR EDSON

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—The costliest of all political campaigns is winding up with the biggest splurge in history.

Between now and Nov. 4 Republicans and Democrats — and the organizations supporting them—will bombard us voters by eye and by ear, using television, radio and literature.

Each side will argue its case until the last minute.

On Nov. 3, the Democratic National Committee will take over all radio and TV networks from 10:30 p. m. until 11 p. m. (EST).

Then the Republicans move in for their last licks. The Citizens for Eisenhower Committee will have all radio-TV networks from 11 p. m. until midnight (EST).

You'll get some idea of the tremendous costs from this:

More than a million dollars have been or will be spent on national radio and television programs alone for the last three weeks of the campaign.

Starting at the middle of last week, the final three weeks on the networks line up like this:

Programs boosting Stevenson: 12¼ hours of radio time, 11½ hours of TV.

Programs boosting Eisenhower: 4¾ hours of radio time, and also 4¾ hours of TV.

If the parties or other sponsoring organizations pay the listed rates ($24,000 an hour for radio, $50,000 an hour for TV), this would cost Stevenson supporters about $869,000 and Eisenhower backers around $351,000.

Network officials say they expect more time will be purchased. And they point out that their figures do not include spot announcements or programs carried by single stations or by state networks.

So the figures would exclude the costs of a Republican plan to use spot radio and TV announcements in 12 key states.

Democrats have called this an air blitz that would cost two million dollars.

Walter Williams, co-chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, replied that the ad agency which drew up the plan recommended a two-million dollar campaign. But, Williams said, "how much we actually will spend depends, of course, on what money we are able to raise."

Oddly, no one knows for sure how much a campaign costs in a presidential year. One guess, by Illinois' Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas in his new book, "Ethics in Government": 75 million dollars. This figure includes expenses of congressional as well as presidential candidates.

On one thing everyone is agreed. Whatever the total cost,

Tested Vaccine Is Found; May Halt All Polio Types

(This important story on a polio vaccine was written by William Manchester of the Baltimore Evening Sun, who closely followed animal and human tests of research at Johns Hopkins. With the first public announcement of this work today to the American Public Health Association, the Baltimore Sunpapers make their story available to Associated Press members.)

By WILLIAM MANCHESTER
(Copyright, Baltimore Evening Sun, 1952)

Baltimore, Oct. 20 (AP)—Working with little children a Johns Hopkins scientist has developed and tested a vaccine which gives promise of being effective against all three types of polio.

"I am satisfied that it is possible to produce a satisfactory level of polio antibodies in human beings," Dr. Howard A. Howe, adjunct professor of epidemiology at Hopkins, said today.

Antibodies are specific agents which can be developed in the blood to produce immunity against a disease.

Using a vaccine made of killed polio virus, Dr. Howe found that it made children develop antibodies against the virus. He presented his findings today at the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association in Cleveland.

The preparation of a triple vaccine made Dr. Howe's work especially difficult. Polio is really three diseases. Any one of its three types of virus — lansing, brunhilde or leon—can cripple. A preventive, must be aimed at all of them.

Dr. Howe warned that the vaccine isn't ready for use—that he isn't even sure it will be the vaccine to be used in large trials. Further testing will be necessary to improve it.

The children, all two to five years old, were low-grade imbeciles at Rosewood State Train-

Rabbi Silver Is Shocked at President's Sallies About Eisenhower and 'Master Race'

All Is Well and Critics Are Wrong

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—President Truman's criticism of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on immigration policies was whipping up a swelling controversy today over racial and religious issues.

Some Republican party leaders, a leading Jewish rabbi and financier Bernard Baruch lined up on Eisenhower's side while a Democratic congressman and at least one other Jewish leader spoke out for Truman.

The controversy sprang up after a Truman statement Friday that Eisenhower "is wiling to accept the very practices that identify the so-called 'master race'."

Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, has not yet replied to Truman's statement. However, the general's headquarters here believe he will pick it up on a New England campaign trip he is starting today.

Silver Is Shocked

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, of Cleveland, visited Eisenhower here on Saturday and then told newsmen he was shocked by Truman's statement.

Yesterday Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), a Zionist leader, and Irving Abramson, executive committee member of the American Jewish Congress both criticized Silver and praised Truman.

At the same time, Baruch—elder statesman and adviser to presidents—said he certainly did not agree with Truman's remarks.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and Sen. Richard M. Nixon, the GOP vice presidential nominee, also came to Eisenhower's defense yesterday and levelled attacks at the President.

Statement Excerpts

Here are some excerpts from the various statements and remarks by those who spoke up on the issue:

Silver—"I expressed my feelings of shock (to Eisenhower) that an irresponsible statement of that character could be made. . . . The attempt, by implication, to identify a man like Gen. Eisenhower—whose humanity and broad tolerance are known all over the world—with anti-Semitism and anti-Catholicism is just not permissible even in the heat of a campaign."

Editors Say HST Unbalances Things

Tough Job for Newspapers Cited by Pope, Who Illustrates

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—A record vote Nov. 4 is predicted by editors of some of the nation's leading newspapers who agree that this is one of the hottest presidential contests in history.

The editors, who came here for a weekend meeting of the directors of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE), said this campaign has brought more pressure on the press and more criticism from partisans of both sides than any other pre-election news coverage in memory.

Here are some of the editors interviewed:

Eisenhower Bitter Over 'Assaults'

Runs Into Snow

Weather Fails to Chill Enthusiasm of Crowds Reporter Says

By DON WHITEHEAD

Aboard the Eisenhower Special, Traveling Through Connecticut, Oct. 20 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, accused his Democratic opponents today of spreading "poison" and "fantastic lies" in an effort to defeat him in the November election.

He lashed out at the opposition as he pushed his presidential campaign into New England along the same path taken by President Truman last week. Despite swirling snow, large crowds gathered to cheer him at every stop.

It was the worst weather luck Eisenhower has had since he began campaigning — but the first snow of the season didn't chill the enthusiasm of the crowds.

Turns on Bitter Criticism

Eisenhower turned bitter criticism against the Democrats in Bridgeport, Conn., where he said there had been charges his election would mean another depression, that he could cut taxes for management but not for workers, and abolish unions.

He termed these charges lies and said:

"The opposition has resorted to the most fantastic lies and distortions."

Earlier at Stamford, he had promised that "every single bit of strength" in the nation would be mustered against another depression. And he said:

"We shall never allow such a thing to come again."

Peace With Prosperity

A sound and prosperous America is necessary if there is to be peace in the world, Eisenhower asserted, and he went on to say:

"If we are not again going to get into war we must pledge every single bit of strength there is in the United States, all the strength of private enterprise, of municipal and state governments and of the federal government against the recurrence of * * * depression."

"* * * If we are not going to have a depression, that means people must have decent wages; they must have proper Social Security programs; they must have prosperous farm programs—all of those things that put a floor of protection over the pit of disaster into which our people must not fall."

Raises Question

In his Bridgeport talk, Eisenhower said the charges levelled against him raised the question:

"Just how silly and crazy can you get in this world."

Snow began falling as his special train left New York city and it blanketed the Connecticut countryside lightly. This was the worst weather for the GOP presidential nominee since he began his campaign on Sept. 1.

Eisenhower told the Stamford crowd—estimated at about 5,000 that the great issue of the day was peace.

Eisenhower left New York at 8:20 a. m. (EST) on a three-day tour of Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

In the last two weeks of the campaign, he said, the time had come to "take stock" and he had found that among the people the great issue was peace.

Equals Truman Crowd

Some thought the crowd was larger or at least as large as

Two Men Sought In Empire Holdup

Three Cars Are Involved in Crash — Man Has Broken Leg; Is in Hospital

Six persons were injured, apparently none of them critically, when three automobiles collided on Route 9W a quarter-mile south of Esopus about 7:30 p. m. Saturday, state police reported.

Most seriously injured, according to the report, was Edward W. Smith, 31, of Teaneck, N. J., whose condition at Kingston Hospital today was reported as "fair." Troopers said he suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, lacerated right hand and an arm injury.

Also taken to the hospital for treatment and later released were William R. Beal, 38; his wife, Telka, 34; and daughters Jennifer, 6, and Edith, 3, all of Elmsport; and James W. Gillespie, 52, of 179 Mansion street, Poughkeepsie, state police said.

Troopers reported the accident occurred as the automobile Smith was driving was passing the Beal car, both going in a southerly direction. The two automobiles sideswiped, the Beal vehicle going off the west side of the road and overturning, and the Smith car continuing on and colliding almost head-on with a northbound vehicle driven by Gillespie, the troopers said.

The left front ends of both the Smith and Gillespie automobiles were "demolished," and the sides and top of the Beal car were damaged, according to the report. No arrest was made.

Adlai Backers Say Hiss Angle Unfair

Eisenhower Aide Holds View Stevenson Is Over-Protesting

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 20 (AP)—Eight prominent supporters of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson deplore as "unfair and unwarranted" the use of the Alger Hiss case in the presidential campaign and contend Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is "more vulnerable" on this issue.

Answering attacks on Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, for what has been called his association with the convicted former State Department employe, these supporters say Eisenhower, the Republican candidate, had given "a far greater and more personal endorsement" of Hiss than had Stevenson.

In a statement Sunday, they said:

"Criticism in neither case is fair or warranted. But if there is to be criticism, General Eisenhower is more vulnerable than Governor Stevenson."

"Protest Too Much'

In New York city, an Eisenhower spokesman said Stevenson's friends "protest too much."

The Stevenson supporters noted that Eisenhower had become a member of the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace in 1948 while Hiss was president of the organization.

They added that in Dec., 1948, the board, with Eisenhower a member, declined Hiss' proffered resignation in the face of charges questioning his loyalty and voted Hiss three months leave of absence with full pay while he defended himself against the charges. The statement said Eisenhower never publicly expressed disapproval of that action.

Supporters of the General have said he did not participate in that action of the board.

Hiss was convicted of lying to a jury in denying that he ever passed state department secrets to a Communist courier. Stevenson made a deposition in Hiss' first trial, saying that so far as he had heard Hiss' reputation was good.

Both Make Issue

Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, the Republican vice presidential nominee, has attacked what he called Stevenson's "association" with Hiss. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin also has made an issue of the Hiss case in criticizing Stevenson.

In Winnetka, Ill., last week, Nixon charged in a campaign speech that Stevenson was "a man who was duped by Communist Alger Hiss and who has apparently never regretted his action in defending him (and) who has never uttered a public word of in-

Orr Says Robber Forced Him to Yield Cash in Auto

An armed masked bandit Saturday night staged the second successful holdup of an Empire Market employe within the past five months escaping with about $8,000 in cash and checks.

Police have been seeking two men for the holdup at the store in the early morning of last May 30, but the theft Saturday night was executed by a tall, dark-haired man shortly after 7 p. m., as Bernard Orr, of 141 Miller's Lane, the store's manager, was about to deposit the money in the night slot of the uptown branch of the Kingston Trust Co., at Main and Fair streets.

Didn't Use Revolver

A police report at 7:20 p. m., Saturday, said Orr was reaching for the money, which he had placed on top of a bag of groceries in his car when the armed bandit slipped into the front seat and demanded him to hand over the money.

Orr said he had a revolver in his right hand as the man got into the front seat of the car. He shifted it to his left hand, he said, and let it fall to the floor.

The bandit forced Orr to drive out of the city over Lucas avenue and ordered him out of the car at the four corners on Lucas avenue extension. The bandit then drove over the road leading into Hurley, and the car was found abandoned

By ARTHUR EDSON

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—The costliest of all political campaigns is winding up with the biggest splurge in history.

Between now and Nov. 4 Republicans and Democrats — and the organizations supporting them—will bombard us voters by eye and by ear, using television, radio and literature.

Each side will argue its case until the last minute.

On Nov. 3, the Democratic National Committee will take over all radio and TV networks from 10:30 p. m. until 11 p. m. (EST).

Then the Republicans move in for their last licks. The Citizens for Eisenhower Committee will have all radio-TV networks from 11 p. m. until midnight (EST).

You'll get some idea of the tremendous costs from this:

More than a million dollars have been or will be spent on national radio and television programs alone for the last three weeks of the campaign.

Starting at the middle of last week, the final three weeks on the networks line up like this:

Programs boosting Stevenson: 12¼ hours of radio time, 11½ hours of TV.

Programs boosting Eisenhower: 4¾ hours of radio time, and also 4¾ hours of TV.

If the parties or other sponsoring organizations pay the listed rates ($24,000 an hour for radio, $50,000 an hour for TV), this would cost Stevenson supporters about $869,000 and Eisenhower backers around $351,000.

Network officials say they expect more time will be purchased. And they point out that their figures do not include spot announcements or programs carried by single stations or by state networks.

So the figures would exclude the costs of a Republican plan to use spot radio and TV announcements in 12 key states.

Democrats have called this an air blitz that would cost two million dollars.

Walter Williams, co-chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, replied that the ad agency which drew up the plan recommended a two-million dollar campaign. But, Williams said, "how much we actually will spend depends, of course, on what money we are able to raise."

Oddly, no one knows for sure how much a campaign costs in a presidential year. One guess, by Illinois' Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas in his new book, "Ethics in Government": 75 million dollars. This figure includes expenses of congressional as well as presidential candidates.

On one thing everyone is agreed. Whatever the total cost,

Tested Vaccine Is Found; May Halt All Polio Types

(This important story on a polio vaccine was written by William Manchester of the Baltimore Evening Sun, who closely followed animal and human tests of research at Johns Hopkins. With the first public announcement of this work today to the American Public Health Association, the Baltimore Sunpapers make their story available to Associated Press members.)

By WILLIAM MANCHESTER
(Copyright, Baltimore Evening Sun, 1952)

Baltimore, Oct. 20 (AP)—Working with little children a Johns Hopkins scientist has developed and tested a vaccine which gives promise of being effective against all three types of polio.

"I am satisfied that it is possible to produce a satisfactory level of polio antibodies in human beings," Dr. Howard A. Howe, adjunct professor of epidemiology at Hopkins, said today.

Antibodies are specific agents which can be developed in the blood to produce immunity against a disease.

Using a vaccine made of killed polio virus, Dr. Howe found that it made children develop antibodies against the virus. He presented his findings today at the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association in Cleveland.

The preparation of a triple vaccine made Dr. Howe's work especially difficult. Polio is really three diseases. Any one of its three types of virus — lansing, brunhilde or leon—can cripple. A preventive, must be aimed at all of them.

Dr. Howe warned that the vaccine isn't ready for use—that he isn't even sure it will be the vaccine to be used in large trials. Further testing will be necessary to improve it.

The children, all two to five years old, were low-grade imbeciles at Rosewood State Train-

Man's Body Found On Saturday Near High Falls Home

The body of Peter Krom, 76, of High Falls was found Saturday afternoon along the path leading from his home to the High Falls Cemetery, where he was employed.

Death was due to coronary occlusion, Coroner Ernest A. Kelly ruled following an autopsy.

Krom, who was last seen alive Monday, lived alone about two miles from the cemetery. His body was found about midway between his house and the cemetery on the path through the woods which he used frequently.

Deputy Sheriffs Carl Cline and Chester A. Wolven, who investigated, said they found a sign on the door of Krom's house stating that he had gone to the cemetery. A bag of groceries lay alongside the body when it was discovered shortly after 3 p. m. Saturday by Sterling Jansen and Simon Terwilliger, both of High Falls, the sheriff's men reported.

Terwilliger and Jansen contacted Krom's nephew, William Brooks, who in turn notified the sheriff's office. Constable Robert Huben of Rosendale also was notified and joined in the investigation.

Krom is survived by a son, Elmer Krom of Kingston, and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks of High Falls.

Both sisters were artists of note although Ethel and Jenne differed decidedly in their work, Ethel being noted for spacious western art while Jenne confined her work to more confined types of art.

Won Tiffany Award

Mrs. Chavez was an active member of the Woodstock Artists Association. Both she and her sister came into prominence in the art world in 1949 when each received the Tiffany Award. Since then the paintings of Jenne have been on exhibition at the Woodstock Art Gallery and at the Ganso Gallery in Woodstock in summer and at the gallery in 57th street, New York, during the winter months. Mrs. Chavez met her husband at art school in Denver, Colo. Together Mr. and Mrs. Chavez attended the Colorado Springs Fine Art Center and studied with noted mural painters, including the late Boardman Robinson and Frank Mechau. She also studied with Pepito Mangravite. On graduation from high school Mr. and Mrs. Chavez each won the Carter Memorial Award for continuation of art study. By 1950 Mrs. Chavez had 12 murals to her credit being represented in Colorado, Nebraska, Utah, Texas, California, Washington, D. C., and Massachusetts. The last one being in Worcester, Mass., as the result of a competition in 1949. In 1942 she won the Ernest Peixotto Memorial Mural prize given in New York for outstanding mural painting by a painter under 30 years of age and prior to that was the winner of the 38 State Mural competition in 1941. Her paintings were shown in all of the large exhibitions at Pennsylvania Academy of Art; Chicago Art Institute; San Francisco Museum and Carnegie Institute.

Colonel Reported Killed in Action

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Army reported today that Lt. Col. William H. Isbell, Jr., was killed in action in Korea last Tuesday.

There was just this bare announcement from the Pentagon. But behind it is one of the great individual dramatic stories of the Korean war.

For, with the official report of his death, it becomes possible to identify Isbell as the "Old Colonel" whose courage and death were reported in a memorable dispatch by Milo Farneti, Associated Press war correspondent, from the central Korean front on Oct. 16.

Farneti related that the Colonel led an infantry charge on Triangle Hill, although it wasn't his job and, in the words of a captain, he "didn't have any damn business up there."

The dispatch could not identify the Colonel because censors hold up the name of a man who is killed. The army's policy is that next of kin must be notified before news reporters may use the name.

Sa the naming of Isbell had to wait until official notification moved through army channels to his widow, Mrs. Masie Gwendolyn Isbell of Gambrills, Md., and his father, William H. Isbell of Russellville, Ala.

It is estimated that about 70 million pounds of sugar are used annually in tobacco products.

Firemen Rescue Several Persons From Building

Firemen rescued several occupants of a gas-filled building on East Strand yesterday.

When firemen arrived at the three-story building housing the store of Theodore Gallop at 60 East Strand following a call at 9:18 a. m., they found several children and a woman leaning from the windows of the apartments above.

Were in Apartment

Two of the children of Martha Meeks, of the third floor, Judy and David Meeks, were in the apartment of Georgina Evans, on the second floor when the firemen arrived and Mrs. Meeks and Joann, her other daughter, were on the floor above.

Firemen found the hallway filled with gas fumes when they arrived and Firemen Joseph Miles, Robert Maines, James McElrath rescued the three children and the women were also led to safety.

John Williams, a crippled neighbor of the two families, was carried out by Capt Edward Albrecht, and Fireman Fred Blanchan, and Firemen Philip Ahl and Fred Williams raised an aerial ladder, in the event it was needed.

Refrigerator Removed

The refrigerator on the third floor from which the fumes came, was removed, and the house was ventilated for 40 minutes before the occupants returned.

Other calls over the weekend were at 7:27 p. m., Saturday where a short in a BX cable in the attic in a house owned by Emil H. May at 51 Glen street, caused slight damage to the floor of an attic, and at 8:54 p. m., when they were called for a chimney fire at 75 Franklin street.

Meeting Is Planned

There will be a joint meeting of the Kingston Zoning Board and the City Planning Board held at the city hall, Tuesday evening, October 21, at 8 o'clock. At this meeting, which will be a public meeting, there will be a discussion on proposed amendments to the zoning law which may be deemed pertinent prior to the printing of the zoning law which will take place in the near future.

Boy, 14, Is Wounded

Stanley Effner, 14, of Woodstock was admitted to Kingston Hospital on Sunday evening for treatment of a gunshot wound, the hospital reported to the sheriff's office. Effner's condition was reported "good" by hospital authorities this morning. The sheriff's department is investigating the circumstances of the mishap.

Three Are Injured As Car Hits Wall

Three persons were taken to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie after the automobile in which they were riding failed to make the sharp right curve at the west end of the Mid-Hudson Bridge and plunged head-on into the rock wall, state police of the Highland station reported.

The driver, Willie Hunter, 24, of Savannah, Ga., suffered concussion, possible skull fracture and a deep cut on the left wrist, troopers said. His condition was reported "fair" at Vassar Hospital today. The passengers, who were treated for shock and lacerations, were Charles E. Jones, 24, of 28 Pershing avenue, and Cora Terry, 30, of 96 North Church street, both of Poughkeepsie, troopers said. Jones was admitted to the hospital, where he was reported as "improving" today, and Miss Terry was released after treatment.

Wildcat Strike Is Reported at Island Dock, Inc.

Approximately 30 members of Local 720, Boilermakers, AFL, staged a wildcat strike at Island Dock, Inc., this morning because of alleged dissatisfaction with the progress of negotiations for a new contract.

John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., president of the company, said that negotiations had been in progress since expiration of the last contract August 21 and that any wage agreement would be retroactive to that date. He expressed surprise that members of the local union should have walked out in view of this fact and the progress that has been made in negotiations.

He said he felt the strike was "CIO instigated," explaining that certain CIO shipyards in New York resented the fact that Kingston had navy contracts and were attempting to sow dissension in the local AFL organization.

The AFL won an election several months ago in a contest with the CIO in local shipyards.

George M. Yerry, Jr., business agent of the Metal Trades Council, of which the Boilermakers local is an affiliate, said that negotiations had been carried on in a "fair and orderly manner" and that the issues depended on opinions that were rendered by the Wage Stabilization Board and other government agencies. "The delays are due to governmental rulings necessary in collective bargaining," he stated.

Former DA Aide Indicted on Sales

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Justice Department announced today that four members of a New York syndicate have been indicted on charges of evading income tax payments on huge profits reaped in the sale of sugar and corn syrup.

One of those indicted, the department said, was a former assistant U. S. district attorney in New Jersey.

Atty-Gen. McGranery said the indictments were returned this morning by a federal grand jury in New York city.

The government charged that the four men associated with the American Brands Corp. owe more than one million dollars in unpaid taxes and penalties.

Indicted along with the company were these men:

William J. Giglio, New York businessman.

Frank J. Livorsi, previously convicted of narcotics law violations.

Louis J. Roth, New York accountant previously indicted on a charge of making false statements to the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The Justice Department said American Brands Corp. was organized in 1945 by Giglio and Livorsi, and operated extensively as a "middleman distributor of sugar and syrup during the post-war scarcity in those products."

Two Men Sought

yesterday off the Dug Hill road not far west of Hurley.

Three Thousand in Cash

Police said of the $8,000 taken about $3,000 was in cash and the rest in checks. It was reported after the other robbery that about $2,882 in bills and silver was taken by two men who had locked the manager, Charles Turner, of 75 Fair street, into the store's cold storage room.

Orr told authorities that he had kicked the revolver which he had dropped to the floor of the car near the bank, out to the roadside as he got from the car near the four corners. He found it in the light of a passing car and then went to the nearest house in the area and notified police.

Police reported after the robbery in May that Orr had just left the store to deposit $8,400 just before the two men appeared to hold up Turner, the manager, and forced him to open the store's safe from which the money was taken.

Orr Describes Man

Orr described the masked man who held him up Saturday as about 29 years old, six feet tall, weighing about 160 pounds with dark hair and ruddy complexion. He wore a tan, checkered topcoat.

One of the two men in the other stickup was described as 28 to 30 years old, weighing about 165 pounds, with sandy hair and wearing a cloth rain coat, and gray felt hat. The other one was described as 21 or 22 years old, weighing about 150 pounds. He wore a jacket and gray felt hat.

Local police started action as soon as the theft was reported and Lt. James Martin and Sgt. James Cullum sent out first alarms. Lt. William Leonard and Sgt. William Messing, who were off duty were called in to assist, and the state police and men from the sheriff's office joined in the search.

Car Found in Woods

Officer James Harbeck reported to police headquarters at 1:34 p. m. Sunday that he had found the Orr car in the woods off to the one side of the Dug Hill road which extends from the Lomontville road toward the Ashokan reservoir.

Before it was found, however, men of the sheriff's office and area state police stations assisted in the search. Those from the sheriff's office assisting included Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburgh, County Identification Officer Earl Conro, County Investigator Arthur Brown and Deputy Sheriffs Chester Wolven, Carl Cline, George Reynolds and Albert Eisele.

District Attorney Louis Bruhn and his assistant, James Abernethy, went out to inspect the automobile soon after it was reported found. It is a two-tone, green Oldsmobile sedan. The bandit left the bag of groceries behind as he abandoned the car, but authorities indicated he left nothing else which might serve as a clue in tracing him.

Working on Case

Detective Clarence Brophy, just returned from his vacation, and Acting Detective Frank Sammons, were working on the case today.

The police report at 12:11 a. m., May 30 on the other stickup said the theft was executed by two bandits wearing gray, slouch hats.

At that time Orr, the assistant manager, had left for the bank to deposit the $8,400, and Turner, who was about to leave the store, recalled that he had left his car keys inside and went back.

Turner was putting a box of groceries in his car, when, he said, "a young fellow" came from in front of the car, aimed a nickel plated revolver at him and said, "This is a stickup, where is the money?"

Took Cash to Bank

Turner said the man, who had just left took the money to the bank, but the young man said, "Let's go inside and see." He ordered Turner to back his car to the rear of the store, and as he was complying, a second man with a snub-nosed black revolver, appeared and they forced Turner to enter and unlock the safe.

After taking the money, which included $400 in quarters, they locked Turner in the cold storage room, and left the building. They had fastened the door with a wire clothes hanger and Turner was able to force his way out. The bandits carried the money away in a cardboard box.

Last Saturday night Orr had driven his car up near the bank and was about to get out of the car to take it to the night deposit slot on the right side of the entrance to the bank when he was ordered at gunpoint to hand over the money.

One of the bandits in the first holdup remarked that the two had "cased" the store for a month. The timing of the second stickup, based on available information, also indicates some casing had been done.

Driver Is Unhurt, Faces Arms Charge

A 29-year-old truck driver was apparently not injured but faces grand jury action on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon without a permit as a result of an accident on Route 32 near Plattekill at 11:45 a. m. Sunday.

Samuel Spruiell, who said his home is in Portsmouth, Va., but who is employed at New Paltz, was ordered held for the grand jury on the gun charge when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Charles Dempsky.

Spruiell was taken into custody when Constable John Odell of the town of Plattekill alleged he noticed the gun while he was investigating an accident in which he reported the half-ton pick-up truck Spruiell was driving failed to make a sharp curve and overturned on Route 32 one and a half miles north of Plattekill.

Odell notified Trooper John Metzer, BCI, at the Highland station and following an investigation Spruiell was placed under arrest.

Man's Body Found On Saturday Near High Falls Home

The body of Peter Krom, 76, of High Falls was found Saturday afternoon along the path leading from his home to the High Falls Cemetery, where he was employed.

Death was due to coronary occlusion, Coroner Ernest A. Kelly ruled following an autopsy.

Krom, who was last seen alive Monday, lived alone about two miles from the cemetery. His body was found about midway between his house and the cemetery on the path through the woods which he used frequently.

Deputy Sheriffs Carl Cline and Chester A. Wolven, who investigated, said they found a sign on the door of Krom's house stating that he had gone to the cemetery. A bag of groceries lay alongside the body when it was discovered shortly after 3 p. m. Saturday by Sterling Jansen and Simon Terwilliger, both of High Falls, the sheriff's men reported.

Terwilliger and Jansen contacted Krom's nephew, William Brooks, who in turn notified the sheriff's office. Constable Robert Huben of Rosendale also was notified and joined in the investigation.

Krom is survived by a son, Elmer Krom of Kingston, and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks of High Falls.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by the Moylan Funeral Home, Rosendale.

Colonel Reported Killed in Action

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Army reported today that Lt. Col. William H. Isbell, Jr., was killed in action in Korea last Tuesday.

There was just this bare announcement from the Pentagon. But behind it is one of the great individual dramatic stories of the Korean war.

For, with the official report of his death, it becomes possible to identify Isbell as the "Old Colonel" whose courage and death were reported in a memorable dispatch by Milo Farneti, Associated Press war correspondent, from the central Korean front on Oct. 16.

Farneti related that the Colonel led an infantry charge on Triangle Hill, although it wasn't his job and, in the words of a captain, he "didn't have any damn business up there."

The dispatch could not identify the Colonel because censors hold up the name of a man who is killed. The army's policy is that next of kin must be notified before news reporters may use the name.

Sa the naming of Isbell had to wait until official notification moved through army channels to his widow, Mrs. Masie Gwendolyn Isbell of Gambrills, Md., and his father, William H. Isbell of Russellville, Ala.

It is estimated that about 70 million pounds of sugar are used annually in tobacco products.

Firemen Rescue Several Persons From Building

Firemen rescued several occupants of a gas-filled building on East Strand yesterday.

When firemen arrived at the three-story building housing the store of Theodore Gallop at 60 East Strand following a call at 9:18 a. m., they found several children and a woman leaning from the windows of the apartments above.

Were in Apartment

Two of the children of Martha Meeks, of the third floor, Judy and David Meeks, were in the apartment of Georgina Evans, on the second floor when the firemen arrived and Mrs. Meeks and Joann, her other daughter, were on the floor above.

Firemen found the hallway filled with gas fumes when they arrived and Firemen Joseph Miles, Robert Maines, James McElrath rescued the three children and the women were also led to safety.

John Williams, a crippled neighbor of the two families, was carried out by Capt Edward Albrecht, and Fireman Fred Blanchan, and Firemen Philip Ahl and Fred Williams raised an aerial ladder, in the event it was needed.

Refrigerator Removed

The refrigerator on the third floor from which the fumes came, was removed, and the house was ventilated for 40 minutes before the occupants returned.

Other calls over the weekend were at 7:27 p. m., Saturday where a short in a BX cable in the attic in a house owned by Emil H. May at 51 Glen street, caused slight damage to the floor of an attic, and at 8:54 p. m., when they were called for a chimney fire at 75 Franklin street.

Three Are Injured As Car Hits Wall

Three persons were taken to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie after the automobile in which they were riding failed to make the sharp right curve at the west end of the Mid-Hudson Bridge and plunged head-on into the rock wall, state police of the Highland station reported.

The driver, Willie Hunter, 24, of Savannah, Ga., suffered concussion, possible skull fracture and a deep cut on the left wrist, troopers said. His condition was reported "fair" at Vassar Hospital today. The passengers, who were treated for shock and lacerations, were Charles E. Jones, 24, of 28 Pershing avenue, and Cora Terry, 30, of 96 North Church street, both of Poughkeepsie, troopers said. Jones was admitted to the hospital, where he was reported as "improving" today, and Miss Terry was released after treatment.

Wildcat Strike Is Reported at Island Dock, Inc.

Approximately 30 members of Local 720, Boilermakers, AFL, staged a wildcat strike at Island Dock, Inc., this morning because of alleged dissatisfaction with the progress of negotiations for a new contract.

John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., president of the company, said that negotiations had been in progress since expiration of the last contract August 21 and that any wage agreement would be retroactive to that date. He expressed surprise that members of the local union should have walked out in view of this fact and the progress that has been made in negotiations.

He said he felt the strike was "CIO instigated," explaining that certain CIO shipyards in New York resented the fact that Kingston had navy contracts and were attempting to sow dissension in the local AFL organization.

The AFL won an election several months ago in a contest with the CIO in local shipyards.

George M. Yerry, Jr., business agent of the Metal Trades Council, of which the Boilermakers local is an affiliate, said that negotiations had been carried on in a "fair and orderly manner" and that the issues depended on opinions that were rendered by the Wage Stabilization Board and other government agencies. "The delays are due to governmental rulings necessary in collective bargaining," he stated.

Former DA Aide Indicted on Sales

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Justice Department announced today that four members of a New York syndicate have been indicted on charges of evading income tax payments on huge profits reaped in the sale of sugar and corn syrup.

One of those indicted, the department said, was a former assistant U. S. district attorney in New Jersey.

Atty-Gen. McGranery said the indictments were returned this morning by a federal grand jury in New York city.

The government charged that the four men associated with the American Brands Corp. owe more than one million dollars in unpaid taxes and penalties.

Indicted along with the company were these men:

William J. Giglio, New York businessman.

Frank J. Livorsi, previously convicted of narcotics law violations.

Louis J. Roth, New York accountant previously indicted on a charge of making false statements to the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The Justice Department said American Brands Corp. was organized in 1945 by Giglio and Livorsi, and operated extensively as a "middleman distributor of sugar and syrup during the post-war scarcity in those products."

'Family of Year' Chosen

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 20 (AP)—The once struggling farmer and the school teacher he married, along with their 12 children, make up the "Catholic family of the year." The honored parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Roggenbuck, who run a diversified farm in Michigan's thumb district. The Roggenbucks were chosen "family of the year" by the 30th National Catholic Rural Life Conference meeting here and were recognized at a reception here last night. The twelve children range in age from 4 to 24 and the oldest sons, William, 24, and Barthol, 23, now own their own farms. Two daughters are in college.

Two Men Sought

yesterday off the Dug Hill road not far west of Hurley.

Three Thousand in Cash

Police said of the $8,000 taken about $3,000 was in cash and the rest in checks. It was reported after the other robbery that about $2,882 in bills and silver was taken by two men who had locked the manager, Charles Turner, of 75 Fair street, into the store's cold storage room.

Orr told authorities that he had kicked the revolver which he had dropped to the floor of the car near the bank, out to the roadside as he got from the car near the four corners. He found it in the light of a passing car and then went to the nearest house in the area and notified police.

Police reported after the robbery in May that Orr had just left the store to deposit $8,400 just before the two men appeared to hold up Turner, the manager, and forced him to open the store's safe from which the money was taken.

Orr Describes Man

Orr described the masked man who held him up Saturday as about 29 years old, six feet tall, weighing about 160 pounds with dark hair and ruddy complexion. He wore a tan, checkered topcoat.

One of the two men in the other stickup was described as 28 to 30 years old, weighing about 165 pounds, with sandy hair and wearing a cloth rain coat, and gray felt hat. The other one was described as 21 or 22 years old, weighing about 150 pounds. He wore a jacket and gray felt hat.

Local police started action as soon as the theft was reported and Lt. James Martin and Sgt. James Cullum sent out first alarms. Lt. William Leonard and Sgt. William Messing, who were off duty were called in to assist, and the state police and men from the sheriff's office joined in the search.

Car Found in Woods

Officer James Harbeck reported to police headquarters at 1:34 p. m. Sunday that he had found the Orr car in the woods off to the one side of the Dug Hill road which extends from the Lomontville road toward the Ashokan reservoir.

Before it was found, however, men of the sheriff's office and area state police stations assisted in the search. Those from the sheriff's office assisting included Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburgh, County Identification Officer Earl Conro, County Investigator Arthur Brown and Deputy Sheriffs Chester Wolven, Carl Cline, George Reynolds and Albert Eisele.

District Attorney Louis Bruhn and his assistant, James Abernethy, went out to inspect the automobile soon after it was reported found. It is a two-tone, green Oldsmobile sedan. The bandit left the bag of groceries behind as he abandoned the car, but authorities indicated he left nothing else which might serve as a clue in tracing him.

Working on Case

Detective Clarence Brophy, just returned from his vacation, and Acting Detective Frank Sammons, were working on the case today.

The police report at 12:11 a. m., May 30 on the other stickup said the theft was executed by two bandits wearing gray, slouch hats.

At that time Orr, the assistant manager, had left for the bank to deposit the $8,400, and Turner, who was about to leave the store, recalled that he had left his car keys inside and went back.

Turner was putting a box of groceries in his car, when, he said, "a young fellow" came from in front of the car, aimed a nickel plated revolver at him and said, "This is a stickup, where is the money?"

Took Cash to Bank

Turner said the man, who had just left took the money to the bank, but the young man said, "Let's go inside and see." He ordered Turner to back his car to the rear of the store, and as he was complying, a second man with a snub-nosed black revolver, appeared and they forced Turner to enter and unlock the safe.

After taking the money, which included $400 in quarters, they locked Turner in the cold storage room, and left the building. They had fastened the door with a wire clothes hanger and Turner was able to force his way out. The bandits carried the money away in a cardboard box.

Last Saturday night Orr had driven his car up near the bank and was about to get out of the car to take it to the night deposit slot on the right side of the entrance to the bank when he was ordered at gunpoint to hand over the money.

One of the bandits in the first holdup remarked that the two had "cased" the store for a month. The timing of the second stickup, based on available information, also indicates some casing had been done.

Driver Is Unhurt, Faces Arms Charge

A 29-year-old truck driver was apparently not injured but faces grand jury action on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon without a permit as a result of an accident on Route 32 near Plattekill at 11:45 a. m. Sunday.

Samuel Spruiell, who said his home is in Portsmouth, Va., but who is employed at New Paltz, was ordered held for the grand jury on the gun charge when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Charles Dempsky.

Spruiell was taken into custody when Constable John Odell of the town of Plattekill alleged he noticed the gun while he was investigating an accident in which he reported the half-ton pick-up truck Spruiell was driving failed to make a sharp curve and overturned on Route 32 one and a half miles north of Plattekill.

Odell notified Trooper John Metzer, BCI, at the Highland station and following an investigation Spruiell was placed under arrest.

Dewey Scores HST On 'Dirty Lying'

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey says President Truman engaged in "dirty lying" about Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in a statement on immigration.

Speaking of Truman's whistle-stop touring in behalf of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. John J. Sparkman, Dewey says:

"A large percentage of what the President says is either grossly distorted, or imagination, or false."

Dewey made the statement last night on the NBC "Meet the Press" television interview program. He said:

"I believe that in some sections, Mr. Truman's talks are helping the Democratic Party, and in others I think they are hurting them."

Dewey added:

"But I think, for example, in his handling of the McCarran bill and in his charge that Gen. Eisenhower was pro-Nazi, he has practically destroyed Mr. Stevenson's chances because the American people just won't stand for that kind of dirty lying."

Dewey's reference was to Truman's statement last Friday that Eisenhower "is willing to accept the very practices that identify the so-called 'master race.'"

Truman's statement was in a message to the Jewish Welfare Board's national leadership mobilization for GI and community services. The Truman message dealt primarily with the McCarran immigration act, which the President contends discriminates against people of some nations under the quota system. Truman said Eisenhower had been asked for his views on immigration but had given none. Truman's message was written before Eisenhower said in a speech in Newark, N. J., last Friday night that the McCarran act should be rewritten.

Archeologists estimate that the date at which Joshua destroyed Jericho was about 1200 B.C., says the National Geographic Society.

U. S. Red Party Labeled Puppet Of Soviet Union

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP) — A government panel today called the American Communist party "a puppet of the Soviet Union" and recommended that it be required to register with the U. S. government and bare its membership roster and its finances.

The recommendation came in a report by a two-member panel of the Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB), which had listened to more than 14 months of testimony.

"Nurtured by the Soviet Union," the panel report said, the party "strives incessantly to make the United States a Soviet America."

The panel recommended that the party be required to register with the attorney general as Moscow-dominated, list its officers and members, and give a financial accounting.

First Step in Drive

This marked the first step in a "you must register" drive directed against the American Communist party.

It was taken under the Internal Security Act of 1950, better known as the McCarran Act because its author was Sen. McCarran (D.-Nev.). The law requires that all "Communist front" and "Communist action" organizations register with the U. S. government.

The Communists claim the party is not subversive; the Justice Department says it is. And party attorneys challenged the constitutionality of the McCarran Act.

A two-member panel of the SACB, made up of Board Chairman Peter Campbell Brown and Dr. Kathryn McHale, listened to pro-and-con testimony before issuing their report and recommendations today to the full board, which has four members. There is one vacancy.

The report said that Russia, acting through the Communist International, has "directed, dominated, controlled, educated and, to some extent financed" the American Communist Party.

Names Are Released

Tokyo, Oct. 20 (AP)—The air force today released the names of 20 U. S. Air Force officers and airmen lost last Thursday when a C-46 disappeared on a flight over South Korea. The air force said it was the first passenger fatality on a scheduled flight by the Combat Cargo Command in more than two years, during which more than two million passengers have been carried.

Return to Prague

Japanese Mother Has Final Happy Holiday

Tokyo, Oct. 20 (AP) — Mrs. Yoshi Nakajima and her four children put on their best clothes yesterday and went on a picnic.

The children played on a grassy mound overlooking the Edo river in Tokyo. Then they ate lunch.

In mid-afternoon police found the bodies of the mother and the four children prone on the mound. Nearby was a bottle containing syrup and poison.

In Mrs. Nakajima's purse police found 50 yen (15 cents) and a dozen pawn tickets.

Police deduced that Mrs. Nakajima, separated from her husband and facing overwhelming economic odds, had wanted her children to have a happy holiday before taking their lives—and her own.

Japanese Mother Has Final Happy Holiday

Tokyo, Oct. 20 (AP) — Mrs. Yoshi Nakajima and her four children put on their best clothes yesterday and went on a picnic.

The children played on a grassy mound overlooking the Edo river in Tokyo. Then they ate lunch.

In mid-afternoon police found the bodies of the mother and the four children prone on the mound. Nearby was a bottle containing syrup and poison.

In Mrs. Nakajima's purse police found 50 yen (15 cents) and a dozen pawn tickets.

Police deduced that Mrs. Nakajima, separated from her husband and facing overwhelming economic odds, had wanted her children to have a happy holiday before taking their lives—and her own.

Three masked bandits, dressed alike and wearing gloves, entered the home of Francis B. Warfield, in the fashionable Belle Meade section, lined 30 guests and five Negro servants against the wall at gun point, then stripped them of cash and jewels and took fur wraps from upstairs rooms. The guests were herded into the basement before the holdup men escaped. Phone wires were cut.

U. S. Red Party Labeled Puppet Of Soviet Union

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP) — A government panel today called the American Communist party "a puppet of the Soviet Union" and recommended that it be required to register with the U. S. government and bare its membership roster and its finances.

The recommendation came in a report by a two-member panel of the Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB), which had listened to more than 14 months of testimony.

"Nurtured by the Soviet Union," the panel report said, the party "strives incessantly to make the United States a Soviet America."

The panel recommended that the party be required to register with the attorney general as Moscow-dominated, list its officers and members, and give a financial accounting.

First Step in Drive

This marked the first step in a "you must register" drive directed against the American Communist party.

It was taken under the Internal Security Act of 1950, better known as the McCarran Act because its author was Sen. McCarran (D.-Nev.). The law requires that all "Communist front" and "Communist action" organizations register with the U. S. government.

The Communists claim the party is not subversive; the Justice Department says it is. And party attorneys challenged the constitutionality of the McCarran Act.

A two-member panel of the SACB, made up of Board Chairman Peter Campbell Brown and Dr. Kathryn McHale, listened to pro-and-con testimony before issuing their report and recommendations today to the full board, which has four members. There is one vacancy.

The report said that Russia, acting through the Communist International, has "directed, dominated, controlled, educated and, to some extent financed" the American Communist Party.

The air force said it was the first passenger fatality on a scheduled flight by the Combat Cargo Command in more than two years, during which more than two million passengers have been carried.

WHY VOTE REPUBLICAN?

The record proves that the Republican Party is the only one that will actually cut spending, cut taxes and balance the budget.

Republicans proved it in what President Truman liked to slander as the "do-nothing" 80th Congress. Actually, this Congress did more for the taxpayer than any other Congress in 20 years.

Despite Truman's claim that it couldn't and shouldn't be done, the 80th Congress cut over $6 billion from its padded budget, thus balancing it and reducing the national debt for the first time in 16 years.

Truman tried to call Republican legislation a rich man's tax bill, yet the truth is that the Republican tax reductions of the 80th Congress gave 70 per cent of the tax savings to people with incomes under $5,000; freed 7,400,000 persons in the lower brackets from any income taxes at all; allowed married couples to save on taxes through dividing their incomes for tax purposes; granted an extra $600 exemption to people over 65 and to the blind.

The public debt, which the Republican 80th Congress managed to reduce to 252 billion dollars will be back up to 267.5 billion dollars by June 1953. This will mean $6,770 of debt for every family of four in the land. It is a per capita debt on every individual American that is six times as heavy as the per capita debt upon every individual European.

Most Americans see little meaning for themselves in a 267 billion dollar debt. But this fantastic debt, wholly aside from its danger signals to our economy, is no longer a "so what" item when the annual interest payment alone is six billion dollars every year.

Citizens who want this waste, extravagance and corruption in our national government stopped should go to the polls on November 4 and vote the Republican ticket.

LONE EAGLE'S SON

In the nation's newspapers recently there was a picture of a good-looking, bearded young man of 20. Readers who paused to read the caption were made acutely conscious of how quickly time passes, for the young man pictured was Jon Morrow Lindbergh, son of Charles Lindbergh who captured the imagination of the world with his solo flight of the Atlantic Ocean almost 25 years ago.

Young Lindbergh was part of an expedition sponsored by Columbia Universty, the Office of Naval Research, the Navy's Bureau of Ships and the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution. Under the direction of Dr. W. Maurice Ewing of Columbia the expedition discovered undersea channels comparable in extent to the Mississippi River and its tributaries in the Western Atlantic.

It seems only yesterday that the newspapers carried pictures of the "Lone Eagle." Few American heroes have enjoyed the adulation that was accorded to Charles Lindbergh and many men and women who were children then have memories of framed pictures of the helmeted Lindbergh adorning their bedroom walls.

Time passes and another Lindbergh has embarked on the path of adventure. Jon Lindbergh is a scientist and it may be that none of his exploits will be so spectacular as his father's daring feat. But it does seem likely that the name of Lindbergh will continue to stimulate the imagination of those who read of the activities of the young man who is following in his father's footsteps.

TOO MANY HAVE FOUGHT TOO LONG

Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, asks for a "more equitable sharing of the burdens" of the Korean war.

While he doesn't go into detail on what he means by this, it is pretty well known that he is concerned about the fact this country is carrying the big load in Korea. He has even appealed to other countries to send more forces.

So it seems certain that what Mr. Lie wants is the same thing wanted by virtually all Americans—some kind of a readjusting of the Korea burden which will reduce the number of American troops on the line. Too many of them have fought too much for too long.

'These Days'

DENATURALIZATION

Residence in the United States for one born in this country is a right; for an alien, it is a privilege. Those born in the United States are citizens by Constitutional provision; those who are naturalized are granted a courtesy and a privilege. There seems to be a tendency for some aliens to assume that they have rights about living in this country, interfering in its affairs and becoming naturalized. They also imagine that once they receive their "citizenship papers," they are all set and have no further obligation to our country. It is all take and no give. They fail to realize that citizenship can be revoked as well as granted.

Attorney General James McGranery has raised two issues: one, that the citizenship of undesirable persons should be revoked and, two, that such persons as Charlie Chaplin, having left this country, must justify their desire to return to it.

The privilege of being an American is so valuable that the alien who abuses it ought to be relieved of it. In the matter of Frank Costello or Mrs. Earl Browder, Attorney General McGranery is correct that the privilege has been abused. As a matter of fact, the cost of imprisonment of alien gangsters and subversives ought not to be charged to the taxpayer; these people ought to be sent where they came from, or if their native governments reject them, they ought to be put on an island in the Bering Set to gaze upon Soviet Russia where hooliganism and subversion are handled summarily.

Thousands of persons, ordered deported by our courts or by departments of government, remain in this country, free to do anything they choose, including the commission of crimes on account of which they were ordered deported, because no other government will accept them. This is an inefficient and, it would seem, even a stupid way of handling such undesirables. If ordered deported, they should be thrown out of the country to dwell wherever they can, or they should be put on an island. Actually, the deportee can laugh at our laws and our courts, because, in such matters, there are no means available to enforce the law.

As regards Charlie Chaplin, he has lived here for about 40 years, growing rich as a clown in the movies. He never became a citizen, which is his right, but he interfered in our political life, usually on the wrong side. His reason for being on the wrong side is that he claims that he is an internationalist and abhors nationalism, which is like saying one is for Stalin's kind of peace while our boys are being killed in Korea.

Chaplin might have made our soldiers laugh in World War 1 or in World War 2 or in the Korean War by clowning before them, but he chose not to do that, although many actors and actresses gave their time and even risked their lives in the war. Bob Hope, for instance, also originally an Englishman, never pled that he was an internationalist and therefore could not cheer the soldiers. We honor Bob Hope for his war services and many abhor Charlie Chaplin for his failure to serve.

This fellow has returned to England, not because he loves his native land, but to advertise a motion picture which he has made and which I shall never see. Maybe he will have a great send-off in England, such as he could not have had in New York. Attorney General McGranery proposes that when Charlie Chaplin attempts to re-enter this country, he should show proof of his worthiness to live and work among us. The fact that he has lived here long has no bearing on the subject, because he chose not to become an American citizen and therefore enters like any other alien. The fact that he is an artist does not justify an arrogant attitude toward our way of life.

So, it is to be hoped that the Department of Justice will proceed with this case. I understand that the American Legion's Americanism Commission has passed a resolution concerning Charlie Chaplin, suggesting that the distributors of his new film hold it up until these pending matters are settled. The distributors may not choose to listen to the American Legion's advice, but I shall abide by their resolution.

That Body of Yours

HEADACHE

Two physicians discussing the commonest symptom or disease of which their patients complained agreed that headache and constipation were the commonest. However, as to which of the two occurred most frequently, they could not agree. While constipation is no doubt very common, many patients think of it as so common that they do not consider that their physician will be interested enough to discuss its cause and treatment.

On the other hand, the headache patient knows that while many suffer at times with headache, nevertheless headache is a definite symptom and they can tell their physician how it starts, how it leaves, whether it is sharp or dull, and the exact spot—forehead, around top of head, at back of head and neck—where it occurs.

In his book "Headache," Dr. Louis G. Moench, assistant clinical professor of medicine, University of Utah School of Medicine, and internist, Salt Lake Clinic, Salt Lake City, states, "The person with a headache often finds himself an orphan. He is fortunate indeed if the headache is transient—just a passing headache—for otherwise he may find himself on an excursion to eye specialist, dentist, ear, nose and throat specialist, nerve specialist (neurologist), psychiatrist (behavior specialist), osteopath and chiropractor. Thereupon, he is x-rayed, massaged, analyzed, fitted with glasses, relieved of his turbinate bones and teeth, and too often emerges with his headache still with him."

Notwithstanding the humorous touch given to headache by Dr. Moench, the book gives a clear-cut description of the various forms and causes that should be of real help to the general practitioner and to the patient. The book contains just ten chapters, beginning with the description of brain and nervous system and their physiology or workings—neuralgia of the nerves of brain, headache due to the eyes, to the nose, to disturbances in neck and upper back, from digestive disturbances, from stomach, intestine and other abdominal organs, from too much histamine in the blood, one-sided headache believed due to mental and physical exhaustion, and headache of emotional origin.

Dr. Moench especially warns the physician who undertakes treatment of emotional headaches that he should allow an unusual amount of time to these cases and a superabundance of patience. The emotional headache is real enough, but the patient must be convinced that the cause is not an organic ailment which means exhaustive study. Special eye tests, x-rays of sinuses, metabolism rate tests, "serve the double purpose of ruling out obscure disease and of convincing the patient that the investigation has been complete."

The Common Cold

We are so used to the common cold that we have a tendency to neglect it, not realizing it may lead to other more dangerous conditions. Read Dr. Barton's helpful booklet entitled "The Common Cold" which may be obtained by sending 25 cents, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Lost Horizon

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Oct. 19—I am composing these rhetorical sweets in the Statler in Washington, a Taj Mahal wrought of waffle-batter, spelling blocks and bobby-pins during the gay hurly-burly of F. D. Roosevelt's noblest contribution to history, the Soviet conquest of Christendom. There is a banquet room two stories high in this hotel with a blank wall 109 feet long. And, over the motor-alley, on the other side of the building a strange steel hoist dangles aloft with pulleys and cables which can lift a limousine straight up from the ground level to this grand arena. The windows which might have been in that wall were bricked over lest some agent of Satan or Hitler should draw a bead on him whose name I cannot say without reverence. And the hoist was put there at a cost of $50,000 and much heft of scarce and precious steel so that My Leader could attend the drinkings of that merry time without the inconvenience of being trundled into and out of elevators in his rolling chair.

In this great hall, Baron Buttonshoes of Hyde Park broke bread and some of the minimum conventions of the Common Man at select orgies of the Gridiron Club, the White House correspondents and other genteel sodalities. One of these, the monumental swilling mounted by old Dan Tobin, of the teamsters, was the proudest debauch since Nero. Old Daniel, his intimates and the lesser swine of his hierarchy were swept away by the honor that my leader did them in coming to their table. As Merriman Smith, of the United Press, described the scene long afterward, the drunks who rule our commerce on the highways paid homage by smashing glasses against the bottles strung along the board and ganged up on a couple of naval officers for uttering mutinous remarks about my leader's taste in friends.

This was the night when the Groton Grape-Crusher flounced his corkscrew curls in a roguish masculine toss and teed off on Tom Dewey, who nevertheless continued to prink along on his toes and was counted out after an Elfin Minuet in which never a blow was struck. Dewey wore his 'varsity letter from the undefeated Michigan Kiss-the-Pillow team of 1915, which swamped Vassar, Smith and Sweetbriar. Fauntleroy was darling in the baubles of his great career at spin-the-plate and ring-around-the rosy. I tell you, there was a man, my leader—on information and belief.

These meditations are seasoned with a sad thought that in this presidential campaign we are seeing and hearing reminiscent stuff. Some of us were induced to believe that General Eisenhower would come out of his corner with a rock in each glove and knock the friend of Alger Hiss and Nathan Gregory Silvermaster through the skylight.

But Ike has been taking campaign advice from Governor Dewey, who gave us two interpretations of the apres midi of an (excuse the expression!) goldang fawn, a sweetly timid wild-creature that goes "whoops!" when you scare it. And, up in Connecticut, where the Republicans are invited to an easy kill against Bill Benton, a Park avenue Socialist with a succulent record of truck with Communists, they picked an honest bore named Bill Purtell who is obsessed with the fact that his employes let him call them by their first names. That signifies that honest hearts and willing hands are worth two in the bush. Mr. Purtell doggedly refuses to hurt Bill Benton's feelings.

I am pleasantly hateful over the weird chemical reactions of this campaign, where events go "fizz!" which should go "boom!" and rough, red medicine turns milky in the hands of our nominees. If I were in Purtell's place I would have a placard on every post in Connecticut with Benton's picture on the left and Stalin's on the right and the hammer and sickle ingeniously entwined, and the names of Hiss and Pressman, Abt and Witt and Browder I would print bold in red letters of menacing significance. If I were Eisenhower, I would yell over and over that Truman was a pal of Joe Stalin and a friend of every rotten traitor in the foul regime of which he is the appropriate head. I would call him a guilty accomplice in the death of 20,000 American soldiers and marines, with his $50,000 annual rake-off in the fraudulent guise of an expense account. Being honest, by contrast with that grasping racketeer, I would drag Truman into every speech and rattle his teeth and make him cry for mercy.

What the devil is the matter with our candidates anyway? They remind me of little boys, with their first boxing gloves, timidly putting up their hands with a stipulation of no hitting in the face.

Can't we ever get rid of this disgusting cult of liars, traitors, fakers and grafters whose only remedy for business stagnation since 1932 has been war and war industries? We certainly can't do it by appealing to the voters' intelligence because, frankly, their selfishness will rule even though the boy next door lies in a tangle of his own entrails on a rocky hill in Korea.

We have to get them mad.

That is what the generals use propaganda for.

Decorum and dignity don't interest me now. I put a cock in the pit to fight and the damn thing goes off in the corner and lays an egg!

Apple Tree Bearing Fruit After 163 Years

The famed apple tree is on Mrs. Lucy O'Neal's farm about three miles from Philippi, W. Va. Its trunk is 15 feet in circumference and, before heavy storms of recent years took their toll, was 70 feet tall and had a limb spread of 60 feet. The tree was planted by a wandering frontiersman named "Rackum" Thompson in 1789. It is a winter sweet variety and still produces, although the active productive life of an apple tree usually is 40 years.

Truman Knows He Has Weakened Democratic Party, Hence His Bigotry in Speeches

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 20 — More important than what President Truman is saying is to know why he is saying it—why he has chosen to arouse class against class, religion against religion, and race against race in the most amazing exhibition of vote-seeking by an appeal to bigotry that the nation has ever seen.

The reason is that Mr. Truman knows in his heart that the Democratic party has been weakened by the acts and policies of his administration and that the American people are considering seriously that they must hold Governor Stevenson accountable at the polls for the mistakes of the Democratic administration. This is because the governor is unashamedly accepting the support of Mr. Truman whose record he has unqualifiedly endorsed.

Mr. Truman has gone into the big urban centers where there are large concentrations of minority groups with an appeal to their prejudices and passions as a means of offsetting the tide that is plainly running against the Democratic party. The President thinks that was the way he won in 1948. He never has conceded what every piece of election statistics shows plainly—that he was dragged to victory on the coat-tails of a party strength which was then preponderant. He ran way behind many other party nominees.

The part being played by President Truman is a help to General Eisenhower because the President is campaigning on a theory which is transparently fallacious. He says the Republican nominee is "willing to accept Nazi practices" just because he is accepting support from some Republican senators who voted for the McCarran Immigration Bill. General Eisenhower has come out publicly for a complete revision of the McCarran law. But Senator McCarran, author of the bill, is a Democrat whose support Governor Stevenson solicited recently and now has. Twenty-five Democratic senators voted for the measure. Does this make Governor Stevenson the instrument of "Nazi-practices"? Of course not—and Mr. Truman knows the argument is specious whichever way it is applied. Then why does he use it?

Mr. Truman is in the midst of diversionary tactics designed to put the Republican nominee on the defensive and to stir up large groups of voters who can be reached by a whispering campaign that is designed as a sequel to the President's public accusations. It is "gutter campaigning" at its worst—the very phase Mr. Truman has been using to describe his opponent's campaign.

The truth is the President has a guilty conscience. If Mr. Stevenson is defeated it will be Mr. Truman's doing. For it was Mr. Truman who stood stubbornly by Secretary of State Acheson when the nation was demanding removal. It was Mr. Truman who called the Korean war a "police action" arguing in June 1951 that 80,000 casualties—this was the figure then—weren't very high and that after all many more persons were killed or injured on the highways every year. He said he heard no such "outcry" over highway accidents as was being leveled against the Korean casualty lists.

It is not a comfortable feeling to have on one's conscience the responsibility for having sent more than 110,000 American boys to their deaths or to spill their blood in a war 8,000 miles from home.

It was Mr. Truman who refused to recognize the treason of Alger Hiss and his ilk and called the investigation by Congress a "red herring" and now in a formal report a Senate committee of Republicans and Democrats says the Communist influence in the State Department caused China to be lost to the free world and the Communists to gain. For everybody knows that if there had been a government in China friendly to the United States there would not today be a Korean war. And if there were no Korean war, Secretary of the Army Pace wouldn't be telling the public as he did last Saturday night that 10,000,000 American boys face military duty in the foreseeable future and that this indirectly affects 30,000,000 Americans.

Why did Mr. Truman enter a war without the consent of Congress? Would Stevenson also ignore the Constitution? Why did Mr. Truman fail to ask for ratification of a state of war when it broke out? And why did he prevent the military chiefs from fighting the Korean war as wars should be fought and thereby reduce the endless lists of casualties? Mr. Truman violated the Constitution in failing to let Congress declare a state of war and he violated the Constitution in seizing private property without law as he did in the steel controversy.

These are some of the reasons why the Democratic party is weak today and why Mr. Truman in almost reckless desperation is swinging wildly in every direction in the hope of diverting attention from his blunders. He knows these blunders are driving people away from the so-called Democratic party standard to a position of protest that causes them to support General Eisenhower. For today Mr. Truman knows that millions of voters consider that a vote for Stevenson would be a vote for Truman—and that's what is really giving Mr. Truman the jitters. He is alarmed because an ever-growing number of voters show signs of wanting Trumanism repudiated at the polls.

If, on the other hand, Stevenson does win, despite an ineffective campaign of his own, Mr. Truman will claim he and his campaign technique did it again—he will feel, politically speaking, that he owns Stevenson body and soul and so will the "left wing" groups behind Truman.

WHY VOTE REPUBLICAN?

The record proves that the Republican Party is the only one that will actually cut spending, cut taxes and balance the budget.

Republicans proved it in what President Truman liked to slander as the "do-nothing" 80th Congress. Actually, this Congress did more for the taxpayer than any other Congress in 20 years.

Despite Truman's claim that it couldn't and shouldn't be done, the 80th Congress cut over $6 billion from its padded budget, thus balancing it and reducing the national debt for the first time in 16 years.

Truman tried to call Republican legislation a rich man's tax bill, yet the truth is that the Republican tax reductions of the 80th Congress gave 70 per cent of the tax savings to people with incomes under $5,000; freed 7,400,000 persons in the lower brackets from any income taxes at all; allowed married couples to save on taxes through dividing their incomes for tax purposes; granted an extra $600 exemption to people over 65 and to the blind.

The public debt, which the Republican 80th Congress managed to reduce to 252 billion dollars will be back up to 267.5 billion dollars by June 1953. This will mean $6,770 of debt for every family of four in the land. It is a per capita debt on every individual American that is six times as heavy as the per capita debt upon every individual European.

Most Americans see little meaning for themselves in a 267 billion dollar debt. But this fantastic debt, wholly aside from its danger signals to our economy, is no longer a "so what" item when the annual interest payment alone is six billion dollars every year.

Citizens who want this waste, extravagance and corruption in our national government stopped should go to the polls on November 4 and vote the Republican ticket.

LONE EAGLE'S SON

In the nation's newspapers recently there was a picture of a good-looking, bearded young man of 20. Readers who paused to read the caption were made acutely conscious of how quickly time passes, for the young man pictured was Jon Morrow Lindbergh, son of Charles Lindbergh who captured the imagination of the world with his solo flight of the Atlantic Ocean almost 25 years ago.

Young Lindbergh was part of an expedition sponsored by Columbia University, the Office of Naval Research, the Navy's Bureau of Ships and the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution. Under the direction of Dr. W. Maurice Ewing of Columbia the expedition discovered undersea channels comparable in extent to the Mississippi River and its tributaries in the Western Atlantic.

It seems only yesterday that the newspapers carried pictures of the "Lone Eagle." Few American heroes have enjoyed the adulation that was accorded to Charles Lindbergh and many men and women who were children then have memories of framed pictures of the helmeted Lindbergh adorning their bedroom walls.

Time passes and another Lindbergh has embarked on the path of adventure. Jon Lindbergh is a scientist and it may be that none of his exploits will be so spectacular as his father's daring feat. But it does seem likely that the name of Lindbergh will continue to stimulate the imagination of those who read of the activities of the young man who is following in his father's footsteps.

TOO MANY HAVE FOUGHT TOO LONG

Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, asks for a "more equitable sharing of the burdens" of the Korean war.

While he doesn't go into detail on what he means by this, it is pretty well known that he is concerned about the fact this country is carrying the big load in Korea. He has even appealed to other countries to send more forces.

So it seems certain that what Mr. Lie wants is the same thing wanted by virtually all Americans—some kind of a readjusting of the Korea burden which will reduce the number of American troops on the line. Too many of them have fought too much for too long.

DENATURALIZATION

Residence in the United States for one born in this country is a right; for an alien, it is a privilege. Those born in the United States are citizens by Constitutional provision; those who are naturalized are granted a courtesy and a privilege. There seems to be a tendency for some aliens to assume that they have rights about living in this country, interfering in its affairs and becoming naturalized. They also imagine that once they receive their "citizenship papers," they are all set and have no further obligation to our country. It is all take and no give. They fail to realize that citizenship can be revoked as well as granted.

Attorney General James McGranery has raised two issues: one, that the citizenship of undesirable persons should be revoked and, two, that such persons as Charlie Chaplin, having left this country, must justify their desire to return to it.

The privilege of being an American is so valuable that the alien who abuses it ought to be relieved of it. In the matter of Frank Costello or Mrs. Earl Browder, Attorney General McGranery is correct that the privilege has been abused. As a matter of fact, the cost of imprisonment of alien gangsters and subversives ought not to be charged to the taxpayer; these people ought to be sent where they came from, or if their native governments reject them, they ought to be put on an island in the Bering Set to gaze upon Soviet Russia where hooliganism and subversion are handled summarily.

Thousands of persons, ordered deported by our courts or by departments of government, remain in this country, free to do anything they choose, including the commission of crimes on account of which they were ordered deported, because no other government will accept them. This is an inefficient and, it would seem, even a stupid way of handling such undesirables. If ordered deported, they should be thrown out of the country to dwell wherever they can, or they should be put on an island. Actually, the deportee can laugh at our laws and our courts, because, in such matters, there are no means available to enforce the law.

As regards Charlie Chaplin, he has lived here for about 40 years, growing rich as a clown in the movies. He never became a citizen, which is his right, but he interfered in our political life, usually on the wrong side. His reason for being on the wrong side is that he claims that he is an internationalist and abhors nationalism, which is like saying one is for Stalin's kind of peace while our boys are being killed in Korea.

Chaplin might have made our soldiers laugh in World War 1 or in World War 2 or in the Korean War by clowning before them, but he chose not to do that, although many actors and actresses gave their time and even risked their lives in the war. Bob Hope, for instance, also originally an Englishman, never pled that he was an internationalist and therefore could not cheer the soldiers. We honor Bob Hope for his war services and many abhor Charlie Chaplin for his failure to serve.

This fellow has returned to England, not because he loves his native land, but to advertise a motion picture which he has made and which I shall never see. Maybe he will have a great send-off in England, such as he could not have had in New York. Attorney General McGranery proposes that when Charlie Chaplin attempts to re-enter this country, he should show proof of his worthiness to live and work among us. The fact that he has lived here long has no bearing on the subject, because he chose not to become an American citizen and therefore enters like any other alien. The fact that he is an artist does not justify an arrogant attitude toward our way of life.

So, it is to be hoped that the Department of Justice will proceed with this case. I understand that the American Legion's Americanism Commission has passed a resolution concerning Charlie Chaplin, suggesting that the distributors of his new film hold it up until these pending matters are settled. The distributors may not choose to listen to the American Legion's advice, but I shall abide by their resolution.

That Body of Yours

HEADACHE

Two physicians discussing the commonest symptom or disease of which their patients complained agreed that headache and constipation were the commonest. However, as to which of the two occurred most frequently, they could not agree. While constipation is no doubt very common, many patients think of it as so common that they do not consider that their physician will be interested enough to discuss its cause and treatment.

On the other hand, the headache patient knows that while many suffer at times with headache, nevertheless headache is a definite symptom and they can tell their physician how it starts, how it leaves, whether it is sharp or dull, and the exact spot—forehead, around top of head, at back of head and neck—where it occurs.

In his book "Headache," Dr. Louis G. Moench, assistant clinical professor of medicine, University of Utah School of Medicine, and internist, Salt Lake Clinic, Salt Lake City, states, "The person with a headache often finds himself an orphan. He is fortunate indeed if the headache is transient—just a passing headache—for otherwise he may find himself on an excursion to eye specialist, dentist, ear, nose and throat specialist, nerve specialist (neurologist), psychiatrist (behavior specialist), osteopath and chiropractor. Thereupon, he is x-rayed, massaged, analyzed, fitted with glasses, relieved of his turbinate bones and teeth, and too often emerges with his headache still with him."

Notwithstanding the humorous touch given to headache by Dr. Moench, the book gives a clear-cut description of the various forms and causes that should be of real help to the general practitioner and to the patient. The book contains just ten chapters, beginning with the description of brain and nervous system and their physiology or workings—neuralgia of the nerves of brain, headache due to the eyes, to the nose, to disturbances in neck and upper back, from digestive disturbances, from stomach, intestine and other abdominal organs, from too much histamine in the blood, one-sided headache believed due to mental and physical exhaustion, and headache of emotional origin.

Dr. Moench especially warns the physician who undertakes treatment of emotional headaches that he should allow an unusual amount of time to these cases and a superabundance of patience. The emotional headache is real enough, but the patient must be convinced that the cause is not an organic ailment which means exhaustive study. Special eye tests, x-rays of sinuses, metabolism rate tests, "serve the double purpose of ruling out obscure disease and of convincing the patient that the investigation has been complete."

Lost Horizon

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Oct. 19—I am composing these rhetorical sweets in the Statler in Washington, a Taj Mahal wrought of waffle-batter, spelling blocks and bobby-pins during the gay hurly-burly of F. D. Roosevelt's noblest contribution to history, the Soviet conquest of Christendom. There is a banquet room two stories high in this hotel with a blank wall 109 feet long. And, over the motor-alley, on the other side of the building a strange steel hoist dangles aloft with pulleys and cables which can lift a limousine straight up from the ground level to this grand arena. The windows which might have been in that wall were bricked over lest some agent of Satan or Hitler should draw a bead on him whose name I cannot say without reverence. And the hoist was put there at a cost of $50,000 and much heft of scarce and precious steel so that My Leader could attend the drinkings of that merry time without the inconvenience of being trundled into and out of elevators in his rolling chair.

In this great hall, Baron Buttonshoes of Hyde Park broke bread and some of the minimum conventions of the Common Man at select orgies of the Gridiron Club, the White House correspondents and other genteel sodalities. One of these, the monumental swilling mounted by old Dan Tobin, of the teamsters, was the proudest debauch since Nero. Old Daniel, his intimates and the lesser swine of his hierarchy were swept away by the honor that my leader did them in coming to their table. As Merriman Smith, of the United Press, described the scene long afterward, the drunks who rule our commerce on the highways paid homage by smashing glasses against the bottles strung along the board and ganged up on a couple of naval officers for uttering mutinous remarks about my leader's taste in friends.

This was the night when the Groton Grape-Crusher flounced his corkscrew curls in a roguish masculine toss and teed off on Tom Dewey, who nevertheless continued to prink along on his toes and was counted out after an Elfin Minuet in which never a blow was struck. Dewey wore his 'varsity letter from the undefeated Michigan Kiss-the-Pillow team of 1915, which swamped Vassar, Smith and Sweetbriar. Fauntleroy was darling in the baubles of his great career at spin-the-plate and ring-around-the rosy. I tell you, there was a man, my leader—on information and belief.

These meditations are seasoned with a sad thought that in this presidential campaign we are seeing and hearing reminiscent stuff. Some of us were induced to believe that General Eisenhower would come out of his corner with a rock in each glove and knock the friend of Alger Hiss and Nathan Gregory Silvermaster through the skylight.

But Ike has been taking campaign advice from Governor Dewey, who gave us two interpretations of the apres midi of an (excuse the expression!) goldang fawn, a sweetly timid wild-creature that goes "whoops!" when you scare it. And, up in Connecticut, where the Republicans are invited to an easy kill against Bill Benton, a Park avenue Socialist with a succulent record of truck with Communists, they picked an honest bore named Bill Purtell who is obsessed with the fact that his employes let him call them by their first names. That signifies that honest hearts and willing hands are worth two in the bush. Mr. Purtell doggedly refuses to hurt Bill Benton's feelings.

I am pleasantly hateful over the weird chemical reactions of this campaign, where events go "fizz!" which should go "boom!" and rough, red medicine turns milky in the hands of our nominees. If I were in Purtell's place I would have a placard on every post in Connecticut with Benton's picture on the left and Stalin's on the right and the hammer and sickle ingeniously entwined, and the names of Hiss and Pressman, Abt and Witt and Browder I would print bold in red letters of menacing significance. If I were Eisenhower, I would yell over and over that Truman was a pal of Joe Stalin and a friend of every rotten traitor in the foul regime of which he is the appropriate head. I would call him a guilty accomplice in the death of 20,000 American soldiers and marines, with his $50,000 annual rake-off in the fraudulent guise of an expense account. Being honest, by contrast with that grasping racketeer, I would drag Truman into every speech and rattle his teeth and make him cry for mercy.

What the devil is the matter with our candidates anyway? They remind me of little boys, with their first boxing gloves, timidly putting up their hands with a stipulation of no hitting in the face.

Can't we ever get rid of this disgusting cult of liars, traitors, fakers and grafters whose only remedy for business stagnation since 1932 has been war and war industries? We certainly can't do it by appealing to the voters' intelligence because, frankly, their selfishness will rule even though the boy next door lies in a tangle of his own entrails on a rocky hill in Korea.

We have to get them mad.

That is what the generals use propaganda for.

Decorum and dignity don't interest me now. I put a cock in the pit to fight and the damn thing goes off in the corner and lays an egg!

Apple Tree Bearing Fruit After 163 Years

The famed apple tree is on Mrs. Lucy O'Neal's farm about three miles from Philippi, W. Va. Its trunk is 15 feet in circumference and, before heavy storms of recent years took their toll, was 70 feet tall and had a limb spread of 60 feet. The tree was planted by a wandering frontiersman named "Rackum" Thompson in 1789. It is a winter sweet variety and still produces, although the active productive life of an apple tree usually is 40 years.

Truman Knows He Has Weakened Democratic Party, Hence His Bigotry in Speeches

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 20 — More important than what President Truman is saying is to know why he is saying it—why he has chosen to arouse class against class, religion against religion, and race against race in the most amazing exhibition of vote-seeking by an appeal to bigotry that the nation has ever seen.

The reason is that Mr. Truman knows in his heart that the Democratic party has been weakened by the acts and policies of his administration and that the American people are considering seriously that they must hold Governor Stevenson accountable at the polls for the mistakes of the Democratic administration. This is because the governor is unashamedly accepting the support of Mr. Truman whose record he has unqualifiedly endorsed.

Mr. Truman has gone into the big urban centers where there are large concentrations of minority groups with an appeal to their prejudices and passions as a means of offsetting the tide that is plainly running against the Democratic party. The President thinks that was the way he won in 1948. He never has conceded what every piece of election statistics shows plainly—that he was dragged to victory on the coat-tails of a party strength which was then preponderant. He ran way behind many other party nominees.

The part being played by President Truman is a help to General Eisenhower because the President is campaigning on a theory which is transparently fallacious. He says the Republican nominee is "willing to accept Nazi practices" just because he is accepting support from some Republican senators who voted for the McCarran Immigration Bill. General Eisenhower has come out publicly for a complete revision of the McCarran law. But Senator McCarran, author of the bill, is a Democrat whose support Governor Stevenson solicited recently and now has. Twenty-five Democratic senators voted for the measure. Does this make Governor Stevenson the instrument of "Nazi-practices"? Of course not—and Mr. Truman knows the argument is specious whichever way it is applied. Then why does he use it?

Mr. Truman is in the midst of diversionary tactics designed to put the Republican nominee on the defensive and to stir up large groups of voters who can be reached by a whispering campaign that is designed as a sequel to the President's public accusations. It is "gutter campaigning" at its worst—the very phase Mr. Truman has been using to describe his opponent's campaign.

The truth is the President has a guilty conscience. If Mr. Stevenson is defeated it will be Mr. Truman's doing. For it was Mr. Truman who stood stubbornly by Secretary of State Acheson when the nation was demanding removal. It was Mr. Truman who called the Korean war a "police action" arguing in June 1951 that 80,000 casualties—this was the figure then—weren't very high and that after all many more persons were killed or injured on the highways every year. He said he heard no such "outcry" over highway accidents as was being leveled against the Korean casualty lists.

It is not a comfortable feeling to have on one's conscience the responsibility for having sent more than 110,000 American boys to their deaths or to spill their blood in a war 8,000 miles from home.

It was Mr. Truman who refused to recognize the treason of Alger Hiss and his ilk and called the investigation by Congress a "red herring" and now in a formal report a Senate committee of Republicans and Democrats says the Communist influence in the State Department caused China to be lost to the free world and the Communists to gain. For everybody knows that if there had been a government in China friendly to the United States there would not today be a Korean war. And if there were no Korean war, Secretary of the Army Pace wouldn't be telling the public as he did last Saturday night that 10,000,000 American boys face military duty in the foreseeable future and that this indirectly affects 30,000,000 Americans.

Why did Mr. Truman enter a war without the consent of Congress? Would Stevenson also ignore the Constitution? Why did Mr. Truman fail to ask for ratification of a state of war when it broke out? And why did he prevent the military chiefs from fighting the Korean war as wars should be fought and thereby reduce the endless lists of casualties? Mr. Truman violated the Constitution in failing to let Congress declare a state of war and he violated the Constitution in seizing private property without law as he did in the steel controversy.

These are some of the reasons why the Democratic party is weak today and why Mr. Truman in almost reckless desperation is swinging wildly in every direction in the hope of diverting attention from his blunders. He knows these blunders are driving people away from the so-called Democratic party standard to a position of protest that causes them to support General Eisenhower. For today Mr. Truman knows that millions of voters consider that a vote for Stevenson would be a vote for Truman—and that's what is really giving Mr. Truman the jitters. He is alarmed because an ever-growing number of voters show signs of wanting Trumanism repudiated at the polls.

If, on the other hand, Stevenson does win, despite an ineffective campaign of his own, Mr. Truman will claim he and his campaign technique did it again—he will feel, politically speaking, that he owns Stevenson body and soul and so will the "left wing" groups behind Truman.

Slate Pencil Jitters

By FRANK TRIPP

The old girl dropped in my workshop while I was filing a saw. "Oh mercy, stop it, it drives me mad," she said, and clapped her hands over her ears. Then I noticed that my caller was the once pretty young thing who taught me in the second grade.

At 80 she was still good to look at and soon proved that, whatever the many years since we last met had cost her, it was not her memory.

She explained her abrupt entrance. "I never hear a file on metal or a chair drawn over a tile floor that I don't think of those abominable school slates of my teaching days," she said.

We had a wonderful visit, but couldn't get together on the slates. My memory of them was one of affection; although it's true that a classroom of kids scratching away with slate pencils was just about as soothing and musical as a saw factory.

I REMEMBER the folding slate I had, with four surfaces, and all bound 'round with red felt, laced to the frame with black cord; a muffler to deaden the frequent crashes to the floor; another reason teachers turned gray.

Nothing but soapstone slate pencils, which few could afford, protected jumpy nerves against that steady scratching, squeaking, rasping symphony of a score of youngsters doing their lessons on their slates, each bent upon making all the noise he could. I'd give a lot to hear it again.

The folding slate that closed like a book was rarely needed for the serious business at hand. The inside surfaces were mostly used for crude and rude caricatures of the teacher; or kiddish comments on her hair, ears, feet or bustle, whichever most distinguished her from the common herd. The poor thing couldn't even enjoy her beau in privacy.

THE IMPISH OBSERVATIONS had to be guarded, of course, so when the slates were collected, oft-times unexpectedly, there would be a great scurry to erase the cartoons and witticisms.

That erasing process would send today's coddled youngsters to a clinic for sterilization. In the absence of a wet cloth, nature's convenient source of moisture was employed in conjunction with the palm of the hand.

My caller asked if I remembered the penalty I once paid for making use of this forbidden method. I did. She made me write on my slate 50 times: "I won't spit here any more."

We discussed the spelling lessons, when slates were passed to the next pupil behind. Then the flower of the flock strutted to the blackboard and produced the correct spelling, perhaps with just a bit of prompting. Your neighbor took great glee in scratching broad lines through your errors, with such vigor that the whole class knew your score before the returns came in.

SHADES OF PASTEUR—the sanitation! The community tin dipper was chained to the school yard pump. Gum was parked under the recitation bench; sometimes you retrieved your own. The single roller towel worked its full five-day week, regardless.

Caps hung three deep on wooden pegs. My mother kept a liberal supply of fine-tooth combs. Your seatmate might be in school a week before it was discovered that his baby sister had scarlet fever. It would turn out that the kid with his jaw bound up for toothache had mumps.

School lunches? Sure, we had 'em, brought from home, ate them in the barren basement. The lunch baskets, shoe boxes and paper bags were fair prey for the schoolhouse rodents, but they rarely devoured all before noon. Milk? Heavens no; didn't we have that dipper out by the pump; which doubled as a wash basin at lunch time, in lieu of finger bowls?

YET THEY LIVED, got strong, grew up and raised a generation that can't begin to take the punishment they did.

Perhaps it was the "good old stock" we hear about. It couldn't have been the safeguards to health and longevity, for there were few. It wasn't survival of the fittest, for they most all lived that I knew; many lively yet.

Could it have been the times; less hurry, less greed, more exercise, simpler foods—more peace of soul?

This survivor votes—Yes!

Yields Ancient Villa

Vienna (AP) — Busy earthworms recently led to the discovery of the remnants of an old Roman home near Petronell, an Austrian village on the highway to Budapest, 15 miles east of Vienna. A party of Austrian scientists digging for a buried Roman city noticed tiny particles of colored earth pushed to the surface by earthworms. Assuming that the color came from murals of a buried building, the group dug up the remains of a 30-yard-wide 2-story Roman villa. The villa is believed to be part of a "city" attached to the ancient Roman fort of Carnuntum, which was excavated by Austrian scientists before the first world war.

Toys Bring Headaches

Manila (AP) — The Philippines banned the importation of all foreign toys last year except rubber balls but the plan seems to have flopped. Local toy-makers are complaining that cheaper and better quality toys, mostly from Japan and the United States, are still flooding the local market. The local manufacturers called on the government to tighten import controls. They also seek to improve the quality of their own goods and refrain from unfair trade practices among themselves.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Clever Maneuver Won Hand Easily

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When the Metropolitan Championships begin this weekend in New York, Bobby McPherran will be on hand to defend the open chair championship that he won last year with Helen Sobel as his partner.

McPherran first became prominent in bridge circles just over 15 years ago when he and his partner—"a pair of fresh teenage kids"—won a Philadelphia championship from a field that sparkled with maturer stars. The other "fresh kid" was Johnny Crawford.

Bobby doesn't have so much time to play bridge these days, but he is still a threat to win any tournament he enters. If you'd like to match wits with him, try playing the South cards of the hand shown today and see if you can do as well as McPherran did.

I'm sure that everybody begins with the correct play—a low club from the dummy. It would be very foolish to put up dummy's king, since West wouldn't dream of leading the queen of clubs if he also held the ace of that suit.

East could have been a hero by taking the ace of clubs anyway, and returning a spade. When the hand was actually played, East didn't even dream of this stunt, nor is it likely that anybody would do so in actual play. Declarer ruffed the next club.

McPherran's next maneuver was to try for a heart ruff in the dummy. For this purpose he cashed the ace of hearts and then made the key play of the hand. If you're going to match his play, now is the time to think and think hard.

McPherran came up with the right answer by leading the queen of hearts. West had to win this trick with the king, and was then helpless to defeat the contract. If he failed to return a trump, declarer was sure to get a heart ruff in the dummy; and if West returned a trump, he would lose his trump trick.

Note that declarer loses his contract if he leads a low heart on the second round of that suit. East wins with the jack of hearts and returns a trump, and now South must lose two heart tricks, a trump, and a club.

Scientist Takes Trip

Las Palmas, Canary Islands, Oct. 20 (AP)—A French scientist has set out on a 5,000-mile Atlantic crossing aboard a tiny raft in an attempt to prove that men can survive on the fish and plant life they can take from the sea. The 27-year-old physician, Dr. Alain Bombard, started drifting yesterday from the Canary Islands toward the West Indies. During the voyage, which he expects to take about 50 days. He said he would live on raw fish and Plankton, a small sea organism. He planned to distill his own fresh water from the sea.

Opium Is Seized

Philadelphia, Oct. 20 (AP)—U. S. customs agents swarmed aboard the British oil tanker Silverdale when she docked here yesterday and confiscated 111 pounds of opium—valued at more than one million dollars on the narcotics black market. Michael J. Bradley, collector of the port of Philadelphia, who led the raid, said two Chinese crewmen were arrested and charged with attempting to smuggle and possession of narcotics. The Silverdale was inbound from the Persian Gulf with a load of oil.

Failure Is Blamed

London, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Yugoslav Communist party's official paper, Borba, says the Soviets are beginning to break up their international information web, the Cominform. The paper—which speaks for Yugoslavia's anti-Russian Red government—said the Kremlin plans to liquidate the Cominform quietly without attracting world attention. One of the main reasons for the move, the paper said, was the "complete failure" of the Cominform's campaign against Yugoslavia.

Jericho, the walls of which were destroyed by Joshua, according to the Bible, is now a village in Jordan.

Everybody's going to work here to get out the vote in November. One ward, though, is going to be watched the other way. It's had a reputation in close elections in the past of somehow turning in more votes than it seemed to have voters.

Slate Pencil Jitters

By FRANK TRIPP

The old girl dropped in my workshop while I was filing a saw. "Oh mercy, stop it, it drives me mad," she said, and clapped her hands over her ears. Then I noticed that my caller was the once pretty young thing who taught me in the second grade.

At 80 she was still good to look at and soon proved that, whatever the many years since we last met had cost her, it was not her memory.

She explained her abrupt entrance. "I never hear a file on metal or a chair drawn over a tile floor that I don't think of those abominable school slates of my teaching days," she said.

We had a wonderful visit, but couldn't get together on the slates. My memory of them was one of affection; although it's true that a classroom of kids scratching away with slate pencils was just about as soothing and musical as a saw factory.

I REMEMBER the folding slate I had, with four surfaces, and all bound 'round with red felt, laced to the frame with black cord; a muffler to deaden the frequent crashes to the floor; another reason teachers turned gray.

Nothing but soapstone slate pencils, which few could afford, protected jumpy nerves against that steady scratching, squeaking, rasping symphony of a score of youngsters doing their lessons on their slates, each bent upon making all the noise he could. I'd give a lot to hear it again.

The folding slate that closed like a book was rarely needed for the serious business at hand. The inside surfaces were mostly used for crude and rude caricatures of the teacher; or kiddish comments on her hair, ears, feet or bustle, whichever most distinguished her from the common herd. The poor thing couldn't even enjoy her beau in privacy.

THE IMPISH OBSERVATIONS had to be guarded, of course, so when the slates were collected, oft-times unexpectedly, there would be a great scurry to erase the cartoons and witticisms.

That erasing process would send today's coddled youngsters to a clinic for sterilization. In the absence of a wet cloth, nature's convenient source of moisture was employed in conjunction with the palm of the hand.

My caller asked if I remembered the penalty I once paid for making use of this forbidden method. I did. She made me write on my slate 50 times: "I won't spit here any more."

We discussed the spelling lessons, when slates were passed to the next pupil behind. Then the flower of the flock strutted to the blackboard and produced the correct spelling, perhaps with just a bit of prompting. Your neighbor took great glee in scratching broad lines through your errors, with such vigor that the whole class knew your score before the returns came in.

SHADES OF PASTEUR—the sanitation! The community tin dipper was chained to the school yard pump. Gum was parked under the recitation bench; sometimes you retrieved your own. The single roller towel worked its full five-day week, regardless.

Caps hung three deep on wooden pegs. My mother kept a liberal supply of fine-tooth combs. Your seatmate might be in school a week before it was discovered that his baby sister had scarlet fever. It would turn out that the kid with his jaw bound up for toothache had mumps.

School lunches? Sure, we had 'em, brought from home, ate them in the barren basement. The lunch baskets, shoe boxes and paper bags were fair prey for the schoolhouse rodents, but they rarely devoured all before noon. Milk? Heavens no; didn't we have that dipper out by the pump; which doubled as a wash basin at lunch time, in lieu of finger bowls?

YET THEY LIVED, got strong, grew up and raised a generation that can't begin to take the punishment they did.

Perhaps it was the "good old stock" we hear about. It couldn't have been the safeguards to health and longevity, for there were few. It wasn't survival of the fittest, for they most all lived that I knew; many lively yet.

Could it have been the times; less hurry, less greed, more exercise, simpler foods—more peace of soul?

This survivor votes—Yes!

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Clever Maneuver Won Hand Easily

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When the Metropolitan Championships begin this weekend in New York, Bobby McPherran will be on hand to defend the open chair championship that he won last year with Helen Sobel as his partner.

McPherran first became prominent in bridge circles just over 15 years ago when he and his partner—"a pair of fresh teenage kids"—won a Philadelphia championship from a field that sparkled with maturer stars. The other "fresh kid" was Johnny Crawford.

Bobby doesn't have so much time to play bridge these days, but he is still a threat to win any tournament he enters. If you'd like to match wits with him, try playing the South cards of the hand shown today and see if you can do as well as McPherran did.

I'm sure that everybody begins with the correct play—a low club from the dummy. It would be very foolish to put up dummy's king, since West wouldn't dream of leading the queen of clubs if he also held the ace of that suit.

East could have been a hero by taking the ace of clubs anyway, and returning a spade. When the hand was actually played, East didn't even dream of this stunt, nor is it likely that anybody would do so in actual play. Declarer ruffed the next club.

McPherran's next maneuver was to try for a heart ruff in the dummy. For this purpose he cashed the ace of hearts and then made the key play of the hand. If you're going to match his play, now is the time to think and think hard.

McPherran came up with the right answer by leading the queen of hearts. West had to win this trick with the king, and was then helpless to defeat the contract. If he failed to return a trump, declarer was sure to get a heart ruff in the dummy; and if West returned a trump, he would lose his trump trick.

Note that declarer loses his contract if he leads a low heart on the second round of that suit. East wins with the jack of hearts and returns a trump, and now South must lose two heart tricks, a trump, and a club.

Scientist Takes Trip

Las Palmas, Canary Islands, Oct. 20 (AP)—A French scientist has set out on a 5,000-mile Atlantic crossing aboard a tiny raft in an attempt to prove that men can survive on the fish and plant life they can take from the sea. The 27-year-old physician, Dr. Alain Bombard, started drifting yesterday from the Canary Islands toward the West Indies. During the voyage, which he expects to take about 50 days, He said he would live on raw fish and Plankton, a small sea organism. He planned to distill his own fresh water from the sea.

Opium Is Seized

Philadelphia, Oct. 20 (AP)—U. S. customs agents swarmed aboard the British oil tanker Silverdale when she docked here yesterday and confiscated 111 pounds of opium—valued at more than one million dollars on the narcotics black market. Michael J. Bradley, collector of the port of Philadelphia, who led the raid, said two Chinese crewmen were arrested and charged with attempting to smuggle and possession of narcotics. The Silverdale was inbound from the Persian Gulf with a load of oil.

Failure Is Blamed

London, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Yugoslav Communist party's official paper, Borba, says the Soviets are beginning to break up their international information web, the Cominform. The paper—which speaks for Yugoslavia's anti-Russian Red government—said the Kremlin plans to liquidate the Cominform quietly without attracting world attention. One of the main reasons for the move, the paper said, was the "complete failure" of the Cominform's campaign against Yugoslavia.

Jericho, the walls of which were destroyed by Joshua, according to the Bible, is now a village in Jordan.

Yields Ancient Villa

Vienna (AP)—Busy earthworms recently led to the discovery of the remnants of an old Roman home near Petronell, an Austrian village on the highway to Budapest, 15 miles east of Vienna. A party of Austrian scientists digging for a buried Roman city noticed tiny particles of colored earth pushed to the surface by earthworms. Assuming that the color came from murals of a buried building, the group dug up the remains of a 30-yard-wide 2-story Roman villa. The villa is believed to be part of a "city" attached to the ancient Roman fort of Carnuntum, which was excavated by Austrian scientists before the first world war.

In times past, commercial nations traditionally kept the information they gathered about navigation of the high seas secret, but in recent years there has been an effort to coordinate this information.

Toys Bring Headaches

Manila (AP) — The Philippines banned the importation of all foreign toys last year except rubber balls but the plan seems to have flopped. Local toy-makers are complaining that cheaper and better quality toys, mostly from Japan and the United States, are still flooding the local market. The local manufacturers called on the government to tighten import controls. They also seek to improve the quality of their own goods and refrain from unfair trade practices among themselves.

New Core Curriculum

At the Kiwanis Club's regular meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday, Leo J. Dohney and Victor Mahoney, outlined the new core curriculum being offered to ninth and 10th grade pupils in the Kingston school system. The new curriculum, instituted in September, 1951, with approximately 200 pupils, is designed to make the students "better fitted to resume the responsibilities of citizens," Dohney said, and called upon advisory committees of citizens to assist in developing the program.

In the ninth year program, explained by Mr. Dohney, stress is placed on citizenship. The 10th year program, which Mr. Mahoney explained, stresses family life, personality and social relationships. Both programs utilize the resources of the community to supplement the material the pupils gain from reading.

Awards Given

Also at Thursday's meeting, Past President Charles Snyder was presented with the achievement award given to the Kingston club for attaining first place among the clubs of the Hudson valley district last year. The award was presented by President Raymond Garraghan, who accepted it on Mr. Snyder's behalf from State Governor Lawrence A. Hapgood at the state convention. Kingston was also winner of the same award the previous year.

Donation Day at Home for Aged Slated Oct. 23

The Board of Managers, Home for the Aged, 80 Washington avenue, have announced that the annual donation day will be held at the Home on Thursday, Oct. 23. Through the persistent efforts of 35 women in the community serving on the board, who work arduously for the success of this day, many extra pleasures and comforts are provided for the guests at the home. One of these is the well-filled bookshelves placed in an attractively arranged sitting room, to the right of the main entrance. A group of guests enjoying these donations are from left, Mrs. Grace Ellsworth, Joseph Hasbrouck, Mrs. Eudora Auchmoody, Mrs. Caroline Cooke, and Mrs. Frank Styles. (Freeman photo)

Public Cooperation Asked on Donation Day, Home for Aged

One day each year is set aside by the board of Managers, as Donation Day at the Home for the Aged on Washington avenue, when the public is invited to visit the home, and donate articles or money which assists in its maintenance. The event this year is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 23, beginning at 3 p. m.

Not to be confused with the Board of Trustees which is entrusted with the general management and finances of the Home, the board of managers comprises a committee of 35 women in the community, who assume responsibility for those comforts and pleasures not generally classified as necessities. It is also the duty of this group to advise the trustees with regard to housekeeping matters.

Members serving on the board of managers are elected for a term of two years by the associate members. Anyone interested in the affairs of the Home may become an associate member. The assessment for dues is a small one. The income from dues labeled the "good cheer fund" is disbursed by the managers for parties to celebrate the birthdays and anniversaries of the guests, and contributes immeasurably to their happiness.

Mrs. Clyde Wonderly, president of the board of managers, has praised the generosity of the contributors. "Farmers, merchants and the general public, are a very cooperative. But," she added, "like all households these days, it costs more to maintain them and the same is true at the Home for the Aged."

Farm Products Helpful

"We will welcome contributions of fruits, vegetables, dairy or other products from the farmers in the area. Canned goods, furniture, books, magazines, cash donations and most anything that is used in the average home, will be gratefully received. It is not necessary for the donors to wait until the day specified as donation day. There is always some one at the Home to receive the contributions."

A request was made by Mrs. Wonderly that donors put their names on the donations, so that the board might acknowledge them.

Serve on Board

Serving on the board of managers this year are Mrs. Clyde E. Wonderly, Sr., president; Mrs. Harry Flemming, vice-president; Mrs. Harry Halverson, secretary; Mrs. Alfred Schmid, treasurer; Mrs. William Frey, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clifford Rose, good cheer treasurer; and Mrs. Grover Lasher, application chairman.

The board members comprise the Mmes. William Brigham, Newton Fessenden, William Frey, Harry Flemming, Marie Gunther, Harry Halverson, C. J. Heiselman, Frederic Holcomb, George V. D. Hutton, Allan Hanstein, Donald Lane, Grover C. Lasher, John MacKinnon, Stanley Matthews, Clifford Rose, Henry Sniffen, Alfred Schmid, Frederick Snyder, Cornelius Treadwell, and the Mmes. John Saxe, West Hurley; E. C. Reed, Saugerties; and B. H. Matteson, New Paltz.

A musical program to be announced will be presented during the afternoon of Donation Day.

Guests at the home are awaiting with great expectation, the annual festive day, but have expressed regret that Mr. and Mrs. Irving L. Parks, superintendent and matron for the past 12 years, will not be present, since they are vacationing in Florida.

Dr. Rocco Castoro, senior psychiatrist at Kings Park State Hospital, Kings Park, L. Married on Columbus Day at Rosendale, this year, the couple will visit Bari, Italy, where Dr. Castoro has brothers and sisters, and they will also visit the Royal College of Naples where Dr. Castoro was graduated in 1921 and was an assistant in gynecology and obstetrics until 1926 when he came to the United States. He later turned to psychiatry in which he now specializes. Dr. Castoro has not been back to Italy since 1926. (Italian Line photo)

Folklore Study Club Will Be Organized

A meeting of persons interested in forming a folklore study club will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Ulster County Home Bureau offices, 280 Wall street.

The meeting will be in charge of Harry J. Siemsen, town of Kingston historian; his sister, Miss Marie Siemsen, both of Sawkill, and Miss Neva Shultis of Woodstock.

Purpose of such a group would be for those persons interested in folklore to get together for mutual assistance, each to benefit from the experiences of all, Mr. Siemsen explained.

Siemsen predicted that future generations will be as interested in the written records of those who are living now as we are in the records of Colonial times. He pointed out that today's generation lived through the very significant era of the change from horse and carriage to automobiles.

Although the meeting was arranged by the Home Bureau, it was stressed that the meeting is open to all persons, men and women, who are interested in gathering folklore, whether members of the Home Bureau or not.

Hadassah Announces Program for Meeting

The highlight of the Hadassah meeting to be held tonight in the Temple Emanuel on Abeel street, will be a quiz patterned after a popular TV show.

Local talent participating in the quiz will be Mrs. Harry Streifer, moderator; Mrs. Ben Chipman, Mrs. Julius Sippen, Mrs. Louis Ellenbogen, and Mrs. David Kline.

The program will also include an amusing skit, Hadassah Medical Organization. The cast comprises Mrs. Herbert Gertner, Mrs. Sidney Pauker, Mrs. Jack Smollen and Miss Rhoda Mollott.

A discussion on current events will be led by the chairman, Mrs. Alex Parnett. New and old members are urged to be present.

NEIGHBORHOOD PRIVACY

A letter this morning explains: "Six months ago my husband and I and our two small children moved into a new housing development. The houses on the street are alike with approximately ten feet of lawn space between each house. I now find that having such close neighbors means that people are always popping in and out—my problems are theirs and theirs seem to become mine. By choice as well as temperament, I am a very reserved person, and need a quite definite degree of privacy. In fact, this constant interruption by well-meaning neighbors is getting me down. Will you please tell me what I can do to discourage this practice without having them think me a snob?"

Answer: In the situation you describe, I am afraid that you can have privacy only at the cost of being thought stand-offish by some of your neighbors. The best suggestion I can give is to make it your habit to be unceasingly busy and not able to stop to talk to them—and never run in and out of their houses, much as you might on occasion like to!

Neighborhood Housewarming

Dear Mrs. Post: Last year my husband and I bought our own house. It was not a new house and was badly in need of repair. We have finally finished decorating and repairing and are now very proud of our ownership. I would like to know if it is too late to give a housewarming party now after living here a year? Our intimate friends have, of course, seen the house in its changing stages of face-lifting, but lots of neighbors who have been friendly during our dismantled period have seen little or nothing of its finished effect.

Answer: Have a housewarming by all means. Actually, this is nothing further than lightest refreshments set out on the dining table, and telling your guests to go all over the house and see as much of it as they like.

Fiance and Fiancee

Dear Mrs. Post: To settle a question that has arisen in our office, I would like to know if I am correct in saying that fiance and fiancee are pronounced exactly alike. I mean the final a pronounced as ay?

Answer: Yes. The same exactly!

Some of the questions asked about engagements are—how to make public announcement, is a ring necessary, who should call on the groom's family? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but leaflet E-1 will be helpful. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Costliest Political with television being widely used for the first time, this is the most expensive campaign ever.

By law, a political organization is limited to three million dollars a year. But there's nothing to keep kindred organizations, such as the Volunteers for Stevenson or the Citizens for Eisenhower, from trying to raise three million, too.

State and county organizations also raise money on their own.

Because of this, figures on the amounts raised by national organizations may not mean too much.

But, as we go into the last lap, here is what the parties are doing:

Republicans: National Chairman Arthur Summerfield says his party expects to spending around $4,800,000. All over the legal three million dollar maximum would be handled by congressional campaign committees.

Citizens for Eisenhower group hopes to collect between $750,000 and a million dollars.

Democrats: 800,000 red, white and blue booklets, each having five certificates, have been distributed. Anyone donating $5 gets a certificate bearing a thank-you from Stevenson. Beardsley Ruml, the chairman of the Democratic finance committee who thought up the idea, says the results have been "too fantastic for words." No dollars and cents figures, though.

Porter McKeever, national publicity chief of Volunteers for Stevenson, says his organization has spent $280,000, hopes to collect around $750,000.

Organized labor also has been busy raising money.

The CIO would like to raise around a million dollars, with half of the money staying at the local level. Philip Murray, CIO president, says: "The CIO is doing the same as it has in other campaigns, collecting voluntary dollars from our people in the plants to help our candidates. The response, thus far, has been reasonably good."

The AFL estimated it will raise between $400,000 and $600,000 for its League of Political Education.

Labor's committee for Stevenson and Sparkman, composed of representatives of about 100 AFL and railway unions, is receiving contributions from individuals but says it has no estimate of how much has been collected. The committee has a get-out-the-vote campaign, with $2,000 in prizes to be awarded to winning locals.

Railway Labor's Political League, composed of 19 rail unions, also collects from individuals. It, too, insists it has no figures on how much it has taken in.

The Amalgamated Clothing Workers will put out "literally hundreds of thousands of circulars," have a big Union Square rally for Stevenson Oct. 31, and co-operate with the AFL, CIO and Democratic party in a Madison Square Garden rally for Stevenson on Oct. 27. No figures on money collected.

United Auto Workers (UAW) have no estimate on how much they're spending. But the plans include three nationwide weekly TV shows (the first was yesterday) and a radio program on 73 stations in 24 states.

John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers has said he will stump for Stevenson.

Not all leaders of organized labor have come out for the Democrats.

Mighty Flow Diminished

On March 30, 1847, Niagara Falls nearly ceased to flow. The flow on that day was hardly more than that of a mill-dam. It was thought that an accumulation of ice between Fort Erie and Buffalo was the cause of the unusual occurrence.

Tested Vaccine

ing School. Their parents agreed to the experiment. No child was in danger at any time.

They were inoculated with a vaccine brewed from (1) the spinal cords of monkeys stricken with polio and (2) a chemical rendering the polio viruses harmless but still capable of producing antibodies.

In 1950, Dr. Howe had found that he could immunize chimpanzees.

Eleven bedridden children at Rosewood, in good physical condition despite their handicaps, were chosen for the human trials.

Blood tests showed only one of them had antibodies against more than one type of polio virus, before the vaccination.

Dr. Howe decided to give six of them the vaccine, and nothing to the other five. If the vaccine took, the inoculated six would develop antibodies in their blood. The others would not.

That is what happened.

Polio is as common as measles, but most people don't know they've had it.

Antibodies for protection are manufactured in the blood of anyone who gets the polio virus.

Of every 1,000 infections, it is estimated, less than 10 result in paralysis, presumably because the person did not develop enough anti-bodies in time to halt the infection.

The rest became just as immune to attack, from that same type of virus, as if they had been paralyzed.

At least 90 per cent of all people over 15 have been protected that way.

There is to get large amounts of polio virus, if mass vaccinations are ever to become feasible.

Dr. Howe stressed that the human trials are the culmination of 10 years of painstaking research, supported by the March of Dimes, by a team of researchers.

Baruch Hits

New York)—Silver's "action is in bad taste and an affront to Zionists like myself. It all proves that when a rabbi steps off his pulpit and turns politician, he becomes a bad rabbi and a worse politician. . . . As a Zionist, he (Silver) should be on his hands and knees in gratitude to Truman."

Baruch Disagrees

Baruch (in answer to newsmen's questions in New York after Eisenhower's headquarters released a letter of high praise from Baruch to Eisenhower)—"I certainly don't agree" with Truman's statement but "I will not attack him (Truman) unless he attacks me."

Abramson (in a telegram, released in Paterson, N. J., sent to Silver)—"Your role as a promoter of the Republican Party within Jewish organizations has been well-known for many years. . . . Political partisanship seems to require you to stoop to public condemnation of the President . . . who has demonstrated more courage than any other person in carrying the fight for civil liberties to places where those whom you support are too meek to face that fight."

Nixon (in an address, carried in part by radio and television in some eastern cities, to 400 party workers here)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, "should immediately disassociate himself from this intemperate and unfair and vicious attack" by Truman.

Destroys Chances

Dewey (on the NBC "Meet the Press" television program) —". . . In his charge that General Eisenhower was pro-Nazi, he (Truman) has practically destroyed Mr. Stevenson's chances, because the American people just won't stand for that kind of dirty lying."

Abramson is national chairman of the CIO community services committee. The CIO is supporting Stevenson.

Silver did not directly endorse Eisenhower Saturday, but Cellar said Silver "had the right to espouse General Eisenhower's candidacy."

Baruch, who has been cool to Truman in recent years, said he "might have something to say later" about backing a candidate. But the financier pointed out that his letter to Eisenhower, dated Aug. 7, was signed "affectionately."

Contained in Message

Truman's statement was contained in a message read for him in Washington while he campaigned in New England. It was addressed to the Jewish Welfare Board's National Leadership Mobilization for GI and Community Services.

Chief topic of the Truman message was the McCarran Immigration Law. The President said it was discriminatory and declared Eisenhower had been asked for his views on immigration but had given none.

The message was written before Eisenhower, in a Newark, N. J. speech Friday night, called for re-writing of the McCarran Act.

In Brooklyn Saturday night, Truman said his words "as usual * * * are being distorted in the press." The President said only his own fight against the McCarran law resulted in Eisenhower's decision to condemn it.

Truman, who vetoed the McCarran Act this year and then saw his veto overridden by Congress, said he had "not sought to reflect on the general's military accomplishments" in the fight against Germany.

The McCarran Act codifies past immigration laws and maintains national quotas, which opponents of the law contend are discriminatory.

Editors Say HST

of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, which are supporting Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic nominee for president:

"I have become convinced of one thing: Readers cannot judge objectivity of a newspaper in a presidential campaign for the simple reason that they cannot read objectively. Most of them do not want objectivity—they want their side favored.

Both Groups Complain

"Many Republicans complained that our news stories about Nixon were 'Democratic propaganda' until Nixon made his television speech; then Democrats started complaining that stories about Nixon were 'Republican propaganda'.

"Some Democrats think we are trying to hurt Stevenson by putting on page one accounts of Truman's attacks on Ike; but if we played Truman down, just as many Democrats would scream."

Truman Is Trouble

Pope added: "It is fairly easy to keep news even as between Adlai and Ike, but Truman throws things off balance."

J. Donald Ferguson, president and editor of the Milwaukee Journal:

"The only other presidential campaign I can recall which reached so high an emotional level was the Al Smith-Herbert Hoover campaign of '28. The emotions aroused there were of one kind —religious. In this campaign we have numerous emotional currents, ranging from grievances against the Truman administration to resentments within the Republican party because Sen. Taft was not the nominee.

"Newspapers can only print the news as accurately as it comes to us. I suppose that so long as the shadow of Russia falls across the world and fear is in the minds of men, the public is going to be extremely edgy, suspicious, and angry temporarily at facts that do not please it."

Democrat Hits Racial Charges

Indianapolis, Oct. 20 (AP)—Gov. Henry F. Schricker says President Truman's charges of anti-semitism and anti-Catholicism in the Republican party "looks like a regrettable incident."

The governor, a Democrat, made the statement to a newsman at Switz City, Ind., Saturday night while there for a campaign speech.

Schricker is battling Republican Senator William E. Jenner for election as U. S. Senator from Indiana.

"You know how I stand on these racial and religious questions," Gov. Schricker told the newsman. "I don't think a large part of the people—a political party—can be thus condemned."

Gov. Schricker was accused recently of anti-Catholicism by Cale J. Holder, Indiana Republican state chairman, Schricker denied this and he was backed up by prominent Democrats who are Catholics.

Attempt Is Failure

Elan, Wales, Oct. 20 (AP)—Police disclosed today that an unsuccessful weekend attempt was made to blow up a pipeline carrying water to Birmingham, England's second largest city. Saboteurs put an explosive charge against a buttress of an aqueduct which takes the big tube to Birmingham from reservoirs in the isolated Elan valley in the mountains of central Wales. The charge blew an eight-foot-deep crater under one arch but failed to damage the pipeline.

Riots Cause 11 Deaths

Port Elizabeth, South Africa, Oct. 20 (AP)—Heavily armed police ringed New Brighton township today following weekend riots which left 11 persons dead, at least 27 injured and great property damage in the Negro section. The township, a part of Port Elizabeth housing 40,000 Negroes, was quiet today after the orgy of violence, looting and arson Saturday.

Costliest Political

with television being widely used for the first time, this is the most expensive campaign ever.

By law, a political organization is limited to three million dollars a year. But there's nothing to keep kindred organizations, such as the Volunteers for Stevenson or the Citizens for Eisenhower, from trying to raise three million, too.

State and county organizations also raise money on their own.

Because of this, figures on the amounts raised by national organizations may not mean too much.

But, as we go into the last lap, here is what the parties are doing:

Republicans: National Chairman Arthur Summerfield says his party expects to spending around $4,800,000. All over the legal three million dollar maximum would be handled by congressional campaign committees.

Citizens for Eisenhower group hopes to collect between $750,000 and a million dollars.

Democrats: 800,000 red, white and blue booklets, each having five certificates, have been distributed. Anyone donating $5 gets a certificate bearing a thank-you from Stevenson. Beardsley Ruml, the chairman of the Democratic finance committee who thought up the idea, says the results have been "too fantastic for words." No dollars and cents figures, though.

Porter McKeever, national publicity chief of Volunteers for Stevenson, says his organization has spent $280,000, hopes to collect around $750,000.

Organized labor also has been busy raising money.

The CIO would like to raise around a million dollars, with half of the money staying at the local level. Philip Murray, CIO president, says: "The CIO is doing the same as it has in other campaigns, collecting voluntary dollars from our people in the plants to help our candidates. The response, thus far, has been reasonably good."

The AFL estimated it will raise between $400,000 and $600,000 for its League of Political Education.

Labor's committee for Stevenson and Sparkman, composed of representatives of about 100 AFL and railway unions, is receiving contributions from individuals but says it has no estimate of how much has been collected. The committee has a get-out-the-vote campaign, with $2,000 in prizes to be awarded to winning locals.

Railway Labor's Political League, composed of 19 rail unions, also collects from individuals. It, too, insists it has no figures on how much it has taken in.

The Amalgamated Clothing Workers will put out "literally hundreds of thousands of circulars," have a big Union Square rally for Stevenson Oct. 31, and co-operate with the AFL, CIO and Democratic party in a Madison Square Garden rally for Stevenson on Oct. 27. No figures on money collected.

United Auto Workers (UAW) have no estimate on how much they're spending. But the plans include three nationwide weekly TV shows (the first was yesterday) and a radio program on 73 stations in 24 states.

John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers has said he will stump for Stevenson.

Not all leaders of organized labor have come out for the Democrats.

Mighty Flow Diminished

On March 30, 1847, Niagara Falls nearly ceased to flow. The flow on that day was hardly more than that of a mill-dam. It was thought that an accumulation of ice between Fort Erie and Buffalo was the cause of the unusual occurrence.

Tested Vaccine

ing School. Their parents agreed to the experiment. No child was in danger at any time.

They were inoculated with a vaccine brewed from (1) the spinal cords of monkeys stricken with polio and (2) a chemical rendering the polio viruses harmless but still capable of producing antibodies.

In 1950, Dr. Howe had found that he could immunize chimpanzees.

Eleven bedridden children at Rosewood, in good physical condition despite their handicaps, were chosen for the human trials.

Blood tests showed only one of them had antibodies against more than one type of polio virus, before the vaccination.

Dr. Howe decided to give six of them the vaccine, and nothing to the other five. If the vaccine took, the inoculated six would develop antibodies in their blood. The others would not.

That is what happened.

Polio is as common as measles, but most people don't know they've had it.

Antibodies for protection are manufactured in the blood of anyone who gets the polio virus.

Of every 1,000 infections, it is estimated, less than 10 result in paralysis, presumably because the person did not develop enough anti-bodies in time to halt the infection.

The rest became just as immune to attack, from that same type of virus, as if they had been paralyzed.

At least 90 per cent of all people over 15 have been protected that way.

There is to get large amounts of polio virus, if mass vaccinations are ever to become feasible.

Dr. Howe stressed that the human trials are the culmination of 10 years of painstaking research, supported by the March of Dimes, by a team of researchers.

Baruch Hits

New York)—Silver's "action is in bad taste and an affront to Zionists like myself. It all proves that when a rabbi steps off his pulpit and turns politician, he becomes a bad rabbi and a worse politician. . . . As a Zionist, he (Silver) should be on his hands and knees in gratitude to Truman."

Baruch Disagrees

Baruch (in answer to newsmen's questions in New York after Eisenhower's headquarters released a letter of high praise from Baruch to Eisenhower)—"I certainly don't agree" with Truman's statement but "I will not attack him (Truman) unless he attacks me."

Abramson (in a telegram, released in Paterson, N. J., sent to Silver)—"Your role as a promoter of the Republican Party within Jewish organizations has been well-known for many years. . . . Political partisanship seems to require you to stoop to public condemnation of the President . . . who has demonstrated more courage than any other person in carrying the fight for civil liberties to places where those whom you support are too meek to face that fight."

Nixon (in an address, carried in part by radio and television in some eastern cities, to 400 party workers here)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, "should immediately disassociate himself from this intemperate and unfair and vicious attack" by Truman.

Destroys Chances

Dewey (on the NBC "Meet the Press" television program) — ". . . In his charge that General Eisenhower was pro-Nazi, he (Truman) has practically destroyed Mr. Stevenson's chances, because the American people just won't stand for that kind of dirty lying."

Abramson is national chairman of the CIO community services committee. The CIO is supporting Stevenson.

Silver did not directly endorse Eisenhower Saturday, but Cellar said Silver "had the right to espouse General Eisenhower's candidacy."

Baruch, who has been cool to Truman in recent years, said he "might have something to say later" about backing a candidate. But the financier pointed out that his letter to Eisenhower, dated Aug. 7, was signed "affectionately."

Contained in Message

Truman's statement was contained in a message read for him in Washington while he campaigned in New England. It was addressed to the Jewish Welfare Board's National Leadership Mobilization for GI and Community Services.

Chief topic of the Truman message was the McCarran Immigration Law. The President said it was discriminatory and declared Eisenhower had been asked for his views on immigration but had given none.

The message was written before Eisenhower, in a Newark, N. J. speech Friday night, called for re-writing of the McCarran Act.

In Brooklyn Saturday night, Truman said his words "as usual * * * are being distorted in the press." The President said only his own fight against the McCarran law resulted in Eisenhower's decision to condemn it.

Truman, who vetoed the McCarran Act this year and then saw his veto overridden by Congress, said he had "not sought to reflect on the general's military accomplishments" in the fight against Germany.

The McCarran Act codifies past immigration laws and maintains national quotas, which opponents of the law contend are discriminatory.

of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, which are supporting Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic nominee for president:

"I have become convinced of one thing: Readers cannot judge objectivity of a newspaper in a presidential campaign for the simple reason that they cannot read objectively. Most of them do not want objectivity—they want their side favored.

Both Groups Complain

"Many Republicans complained that our news stories about Nixon were 'Democratic propaganda' until Nixon made his television speech; then Democrats started complaining that stories about Nixon were 'Republican propaganda'.

"Some Democrats think we are trying to hurt Stevenson by putting on page one accounts of Truman's attacks on Ike; but if we played Truman down, just as many Democrats would scream."

Truman Is Trouble

Pope added: "It is fairly easy to keep news even as between Adlai and Ike, but Truman throws things off balance."

J. Donald Ferguson, president and editor of the Milwaukee Journal:

"The only other presidential campaign I can recall which reached so high an emotional level was the Al Smith-Herbert Hoover campaign of '28. The emotions aroused there were of one kind —religious. In this campaign we have numerous emotional currents, ranging from grievances against the Truman administration to resentments within the Republican party because Sen. Taft was not the nominee.

"Newspapers can only print the news as accurately as it comes to us. I suppose that so long as the shadow of Russia falls across the world and fear is in the minds of men, the public is going to be extremely edgy, suspicious, and angry temporarily at facts that do not please it."

Democrat Hits Racial Charges

Indianapolis, Oct. 20 (AP)—Gov. Henry F. Schricker says President Truman's charges of anti-semitism and anti-Catholicism in the Republican party "looks like a regrettable incident."

The governor, a Democrat, made the statement to a newsman at Switz City, Ind., Saturday night while there for a campaign speech.

Schricker is battling Republican Senator William E. Jenner for election as U. S. Senator from Indiana.

"You know how I stand on these racial and religious questions," Gov. Schricker told the newsman. "I don't think a large part of the people—a political party—can be thus condemned."

Gov. Schricker was accused recently of anti-Catholicism by Cale J. Holder, Indiana Republican state chairman, Schricker denied this and he was backed up by prominent Democrats who are Catholics.

Attempt Is Failure

Elan, Wales, Oct. 20 (AP)—Police disclosed today that an unsuccessful weekend attempt was made to blow up a pipeline carrying water to Birmingham, England's second largest city. Saboteurs put an explosive charge against a buttress of an aqueduct which takes the big tube to Birmingham from reservoirs in the isolated Elan valley in the mountains of central Wales. The charge blew an eight-foot-deep crater under one arch but failed to damage the pipeline.

Riots Cause 11 Deaths

Port Elizabeth, South Africa, Oct. 20 (AP)—Heavily armed police ringed New Brighton township today following weekend riots which left 11 persons dead, at least 27 injured and great property damage in the Negro section. The township, a part of Port Elizabeth housing 40,000 Negroes, was quiet today after the orgy of violence, looting and arson Saturday.

Massa Passes to Kozlowski for TD; Manfro Scores 2nd

Newburgh	0	0	.000

A Kingston High School eleven that looked five touchdowns better than the opposition settled for a couple of TDs and a safety to defeat the hapless Middletown High School Middies, 16 to 0, Saturday at the Orange county gridiron.

What must have been one of the smallest crowds in DUSO history at Middletown saw Coach Bill Burke's Maroons cash in on two beautifully executed forward passes to rack up their fourth straight victory of the campaign.

The triumph put Kingston at the top of the DUSO League standings with two wins and no setbacks.

Meanwhile, Poughkeepsie High, a rising power that may play an important part in Kingston's pennant designs, blasted a fumbling Port Jervis squad, 33 to 13 at Port Jervis. The Kallochmen have a 1-1 league record.

Newburgh Free Academy, which has yet to play a conference game, continued its non-league forays by tripping Albany High, 16-6, at Hawkins Stadium in Albany.

Massa Passes For TD

A brilliantly executed pass from Gene Massa to Bob Kozlowski from the Middletown 36 climaxed a 40-yard advance in five plays after the Middies fumbled on their own 40 on the first sequence of plays from the opening kickoff.

Billings, Massa and Ronnie Crispino, who subbed for the injured Orville Giles, moved nine yards and four plays, two of which were for minus yardage.

Massa then faded back to the Middletown 40 and was being swarmed under by a host of Middletown tacklers when he got off a long, arching pass toward the corner. Kozlowski caught up with the ball a half step inside the 5-yard line and loped over for the TD with three Middie defenders in futile pursuit. Massa place kicked the extra point to send Kingston ahead 7-0.

Engle Recovers Fumble

The score went to 9-0 a few minutes later when Big Bob Engle, a terrific tackle throughout the day, recovered a Rod Whitby fumble on the Middletown 26. The Kingston drive fizzled on the Middletown 9 when a pass intended for Fred Jackson landed untouched in the end zone. Two plays later Jacqson burst through to trap Whitby in the Middletown end zone for the safety.

Kingston wasted little time for the next score. Middletown kicked from its own 20 after the safety and Hooper returned it to the Middie 32. Billings lost a yard at center but Massa, who bore the brunt of the Maroon attack, streaked up the middle for a first down on the Middie 17.

Ronnie Crispino, who started in Orv Giles' spot, was flipped for a five yard loss. From the 22, Massa hit Crispino who made a spectacular catch on the Middletown one for the first down. Captain Pat Manfro slammed between right tackle and right guard for the second TD. Massa's first placement try was wide of the uprights but he received a reprieve when Middletown was offside. The second try split the uprights and Kingston led 16-0. That was to be the final scoring thrust of the day.

TD Nullified

A clipping penalty nullified a TD romp by Gene Massa from the Middletown 13 in the third quarter. The Burkemen marched from their own 14 to the Middie 13 on that sequence.

Middletown stirred up a couple of threats in the second half but Bob Engle was too tough on one of the sallies. A bad Kingston punt was down on the Maroon 21 but Engle threw Whitby and Taylor on two successive plays and eventually stalled the drive on the Kingston 24.

The Middies drove from Kingston's 47 to the 9 after recovering a fumble in the fourth period. A pass from Dick Mills to Rod Whitby was the sparkler in that sequence, going from the Kingston 43 to the 15. Mills flipped to Costantino on the Kingston 9 where LeFevre nailed the receiver. A fourth down pass went astray in the end zone.

Kingston was able to move unhampered between the 20 yard lines in the second half but the fire of the Curtis contest was missing in the paydirt area.

The Middies showed an excellent high school punter in Dick Mills, whose long spirals continually relieved the pressure on the Middie defense. Rod Whitby, the hard driving halfback and Dick Dineen, center, were also outstanding for the losers.

Massa Runs Well

With his running mate, Giles, sitting out most of the game because of injuries received in the Curtis game, Massa did most of the heavy running for Kingston. His sallies up the middle and cracks at the flanks from pitchouts gained consistently.

Poughkeepsie's jarring victory over Port Jervis established the slow starting Blues as a major factor in the DUSO pennant chase.

Newburgh Free Academy has to meet Poughkeepsie on the Bridge City gridiron this year and are in a position to give Kingston an unwilling helping hand.

Elstons Upset 3-0 by Veterans

Elston Sports Shop was the victim of a surprise 3-0 defeat by the Poughkeepsie Veteran Cabs, Saturday on the Central Rec drives.

The upset victory put the Cabbies only a game out of first place behind the league-leading Miron Lumber of Kingston. The Lumberjacks dropped one game at Walden.

Dick Rhea and Jake Charter gave the Cabs a one-two punch with 619 and 630 in the No. 4 and anchor slots and that was too much power for the locals.

Charter reeled off 214-191-214 and Rhea anchored with 202-224-204-630. Elston's best score was a 212-579 by Phil Corrado and Angelo Ferraro's 224-574.

Dick Howard Blasts 746 Series on Central Drives

SETTING UP A SCORE FOR THE GIANTS

New York Giants' John Amberg (right, foreground) wins race to recover a Chicago Cards fumble in first period of game at Polo Grounds. Recovery on 20-yard line set up a Giant touchdown on second play that followed. Identifiable players are Ray Krouse (70); Bill Albright (75, behind Amberg); Jon Baker (60) of Giants and Mike Mergen (73) of Cards. Cards scored an upset victory, 24-23.

Bags Fifth '700' Of Career With 235, 265 and 246

Has Compiled Five Big Series in One Year

Dick Howard found the range on his old stamping grounds in Sunday night's session of the Central Rec Mixed League and the result was the biggest explosion of the 1952-53 bowling season.

Firing 26 strikes on alleys 7 and 8, the slim, bespectacled sharpshooter reeled off successive solos of 235, 265 and 246 for one of the all-time local high series of 746.

Howard didn't find the "700" range until mid-season of the last campaign after nearly a decade of trying. But when he moved into the elite group, he proceeded to establish a unique record by shooting a pair of "700" scores in successive league forays in one day—afternoon and night. He is the only local bowler to hold that record.

His output for the 1951-52 season totalled four "700" triples, three on alleys 7 and 8 at the Central Recs and one on Nos. 3 and 4 at the Bowlodrome.

After a 235 opener, Howard continued his terrific pocket blasting. Midway in the second set he encountered the 8-10 (strike split) for a 265. The split marred a score sheet that showed only strikes in the middle game and deprived the mailman of a chance at the coveted "300."

The 246 finisher rounded out another big night in the young man's bowling history. It gave him a record of five "700" triples in less than a year in ABC sanctioned competition, a mark challenged only by Johnny Ferraro of Kingston and Nick Leoce and Tony Mack of Newburgh.

Howard compiled the series for his own Howard's squad in the Central Rec Mixer.

Joe "Bush" Sangi, brother of the Central Rec proprietor, trailed Howard in the individual standings with a 216—600. Ed McCaffrey knocked off 240—572. Tom Graham rolled 203—551; Frank Cirone 208—538; John Sangi 530, and Lottie Cashara 526.

M. McCaffrey led the women's division with 448 and Edna Peterson rolled 433; Gloria Graham 424.

Cards Upset Giants To Create Triple Tie

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—It appears likely the American Conference title of the National Football League won't be decided until the final weeks of play. But the National Conference race has developed into a one-team runaway.

Three clubs — the Cleveland Browns, Chicago Cardinals and New York Giants—are tied the American Conference lead with 3-1 records. Right behind them are the Philadelphia Eagles and the Washington Redskins with 2-2 slates. Only the winless Pittsburgh Steelers (0-4) are hopelessly out of contention.

The pulverizing San Francisco 49ers top the National Conference with a 4-0 record. Two games in arrears are the Chicago Bears, Detroit Lions and Green Bay Packers, each 2-2. The defending champion Los Angeles Rams (1-3) and the Dallas Texans (0-4) trail the pack.

In yesterday's action, the Cardinals eked out a 24-23 conquest over the previously-unbeaten Giants. The Browns crushed the Eagles, 49-7, as Otto Graham tossed four touchdown passes. The victories enabled Cleveland and Chicago to jump into the triple-tie for first place with New York.

49ers Rout Bears

San Francisco, sparked by rookie Hugh McElhenny, scored a resounding 40-16 success over the Bears while the Lions remained in contention by vanquishing Los Angeles, 24-16. End Cloyce Box scored twice for Detroit.

The Redskins nipped Pittsburgh, 28-24, on Eddie Lebaron's TD toss in the final period. On Saturday night Green Bay thumped Dallas, 24-14.

Trailing, 23-17, in the fourth period, the Cardinals marched 71 yards to their winning touchdown that was set up by a 35-yard Dow Panciera aerial. On a fourth-down play Ollie Matson culminated the drive, sprinting six yards into pay dirt. Joe Geri booted the important extra point.

The Giants bolted right back and for a moment it looked as though they were going to pull it out. With 18 seconds left Ray Poole attempted a 29-yard field goal, but the kick was wide.

Powerful Penn Quakers Appear Cinch To Capture Ivy League Football Crown

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Penn's powerful Quakers just about have the Ivy League football championship in the bag today but they may have to wait until their final game of the season for the coronation.

Coach George Munger's Red and Blue terrors are tied with Yale for the lead but they have only one league game remaining while the boola boola boys have three to go, including one with Princeton's defending champions.

Penn closes out its Ivy season Nov. 27 against disappointing Cornell. Yale, after a non-league game against Lafayette Saturday, takes on Dartmouth. Princeton and Harvard. The Bulldogs figure to win all but the Princeton game.

Princeton, beaten by Penn two weeks ago, has five league games to play and should win them all. The Tigers can beat out Penn for the crown by winning all of their games while Penn drops its contest to Cornell.

The once-tied Quakers scored their third victory of unbeaten season Saturday by coming from behind to beat Columbia, 27-17. Penn scored the deciding touchdown in the last period, with the help of a pass interference penalty. Don Zimmer plunged over from the one to wipe out a 17-14 deficit. Later Penn intercepted a Columbia aerial and marched to another TD.

Yale turned back Cornell, 13-0, in the only other league game. The Bulldogs scored both of their touchdowns in the second period. Ed Molloy tallied the first six pointer, climaxing a 65-yard march he spearheaded with a brilliant passing display. A Cornell fumble led to the second touchdown.

In non-league games, Princeton bowled over Lafayette, 48-0, Dartmouth stopped Rutgers, 29-20, Harvard edged Colgate, 21-20, and Brown dropped a 46-0 decision to Holy Cross.

League games this Saturday find Princeton at Cornell and Dartmouth at Harvard. In non-league games, Brown takes on Rutgers, Columbia meets Army, Penn tangles with Navy and Yale engages Lafayette.

South and Coast Conference Have Nation's Top Squads This Year

BY ED CORRIGAN

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—It's a pity the South and the Far West did not schedule more intersectional games this season because those two sections are the class of college football as the campaign steams into the second half.

Except for Michigan State—the undisputed ruler of the country—and Oklahoma, the midwest has not showed any particular power. The Big Ten, in fact, does not boast an undefeated team. Wisconsin and Illinois were supposed to be loaded, but neither has played up to expectations.

Nor does the traditionally strong Southwest have anything to brag about. The Southwest conference does not have a team in the undefeated class. It hardly even has a favorite for the championship.

The East has lived up (or down) to expectations. Penn of the Ivy League, no less, heads the field and should win the loop title. Syracuse, which was figured to be about second best in the section, took a gruesome 48-7 mauling at the hands of Michigan State Saturday. The Orange was supposed to make it close.

But look at the coast and south. In the Pacific Coast Conference, there are no fewer than three outfits undefeated and untied—California, Southern California and U.C.L.A.—named in the order of their chances of staying that way.

All boast 5-0 records and all are hoping for the bid to the Rose Bowl, which goes to the winner of the league crown. One of them probably will bite the dust this week when Cal and Southern Cal meeet in Los Angeles.

Strong in South

In the south, the big boys, in their approximate order of ranking are Maryland, Georgia Tech, Duke and Virginia. The first three have won five games without a setback and Virginia has captured four.

Duke meets Virginia this week and Georgia Tech the next week. The Engineers should beat Duke, but the Blue Devils figure to rule the favorites over strong Virginia, the leading independent in the area.

In addition to the California-Southern California and Duke-Virginia games, the big ones this week will send Penn State against Michigan State in East Lansing, U.C.L.A. against Wisconsin at Madison and Purdue against Illinois at Urbana. The latter will be televised nationally.

In the Ivy League, Yale and Princeton could give Penn a tussle, but the Quakers seem to have too much all-round class. Houston leades the Missouri Valley, but Detroit could slip in, especially if it beats Oklahoma A. and M. this week. Defending champion Utah is the class of the Skyline Conference, while Idaho State just about wrapped up the Rocky Mountain Conference championship with its 46-16 triumph over Colorado State Saturday.

There were only two minor upsets Saturday. Notre Dame snapped up eight Purdue fumbles to win, 26-14, and Minnesota dropped Illinois, 13-7.

Otherwise the big boys just rolled along. Maryland dropped Navy from the ranks of the undefeated, 38-7; Oklahoma clouted Kansas, 42-20; California slugged Santa Clara, 27-7; Southern California whipped Oregon State, 28-6; U.C.L.A. thumped Stanford, 24-14; Georgia Tech whitewashed Auburn, 33-0; Michigan turned back Northwestern, 48-14; Penn downed Columbia, 27-17, and Tennessee defeated Alabama, 25-0.

Mirons Cop Two On Walden Alleys

Miron Lumber protected its Hudson Valley Bowling League lead with a 2-1 triumph over the Walden Merchants, Saturday night on the Orange county drives.

The two wins boosted the Lumberjacks' road record to eight games out of nine, their best in history.

The low scoring duel saw Johnny Ferraro pace the locals with a 574 series. He fired games of 232 and 200 but a 142 middle effort hobbled his chances for a big "600". Charlie Manfro furnished 210-570 and Larry Weishaupt had a 214.

Mason was Walden's best scorer with 205-576.

American Basketball League Officials Expected to Okay Scandalized Stars

Elmira, Oct. 20 (AP)—Signs increased today that the American Basketball League would vote at its meeting Thursday to allow use of players involved in the college point-spread investigation.

Harl Robacher, president of the Elmira Colonels, said he expected favorable votes from Elmira, Jersey City, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre.

And Robert Gass, spokesman for the Saratoga-Harlem Yankees, said in Saratoga Springs his club favored allowing the former college players in the league.

Robacher said it was possible teams from Bridgeport, Conn., and Manchester, N. H., might enter the league. He said he did not know their attitude, or that of Hazelton. Pa., the sixth present member.

The National Basketball Association has barred such players for life. Maurice Podoloff, president of the NBA, has said no NBA team would be allowed to play exhibitions with or farm players to ABL teams which have such players.

Elmira has signed Bill Spivey, former All-American at the University of Kentucky, who is now under perjury indictment in New York in connection with the "fix" investigation.

Jersey City has signed Alex Groza and Ralph Beard, formerly of Kentucky, and Sherman White, formerly of Long Island University. Robacher said he understood Jersey City also had signed Gene Melchiorre, formerly of Bradley University.

All of these four players have admitted they took bribes from gamblers to fix point spreads in college games.

A Kingston High School eleven that looked five touchdowns better than the opposition settled for a couple of TDs and a safety to defeat the hapless Middletown High School Middies, 16 to 0, Saturday at the Orange county gridiron.

What must have been one of the smallest crowds in DUSO history at Middletown saw Coach Bill Burke's Maroons cash in on two beautifully executed forward passes to rack up their fourth straight victory of the campaign.

The triumph put Kingston at the top of the DUSO League standings with two wins and no setbacks.

Meanwhile, Poughkeepsie High, a rising power that may play an important part in Kingston's pennant designs, blasted a fumbling Port Jervis squad, 33 to 13 at Port Jervis. The Kallochmen have a 1-1 league record.

Newburgh Free Academy, which has yet to play a conference game, continued its non-league forays by tripping Albany High, 16-6, at Hawkins Stadium in Albany.

Massa Passes For TD

A brilliantly executed pass from Gene Massa to Bob Kozlowski from the Middletown 36 climaxed a 40-yard advance in five plays after the Middies fumbled on their own 40 on the first sequence of plays from the opening kickoff.

Billings, Massa and Ronnie Crispino, who subbed for the injured Orville Giles, moved nine yards and four plays, two of which were for minus yardage.

Massa then faded back to the Middletown 40 and was being swarmed under by a host of Middletown tacklers when he got off a long, arching pass toward the corner. Kozlowski caught up with the ball a half step inside the 5-yard line and loped over for the TD with three Middie defenders in futile pursuit. Massa place kicked the extra point to send Kingston ahead 7-0.

Engle Recovers Fumble

The score went to 9-0 a few minutes later when Big Bob Engle, a terrific tackle throughout the day, recovered a Rod Whitby fumble on the Middletown 26. The Kingston drive fizzled on the Middletown 9 when a pass intended for Fred Jackson landed untouched in the end zone. Two plays later Jacqson burst through to trap Whitby in the Middletown end zone for the safety.

Kingston wasted little time for the next score. Middletown kicked from its own 20 after the safety and Hooper returned it to the Middie 32. Billings lost a yard at center but Massa, who bore the brunt of the Maroon attack, streaked up the middle for a first down on the Middie 17.

Ronnie Crispino, who started in Orv Giles' spot, was flipped for a five yard loss. From the 22, Massa hit Crispino who made a spectacular catch on the Middletown one for the first down. Captain Pat Manfro slammed between right tackle and right guard for the second TD. Massa's first placement try was wide of the uprights but he received a reprieve when Middletown was offside. The second try split the uprights and Kingston led 16-0. That was to be the final scoring thrust of the day.

TD Nullified

A clipping penalty nullified a TD romp by Gene Massa from the Middletown 13 in the third quarter. The Burkemen marched from their own 14 to the Middie 13 on that sequence.

Middletown stirred up a couple of threats in the second half but Bob Engle was too tough on one of the sallies. A bad Kingston punt was down on the Maroon 21 but Engle threw Whitby and Taylor on two successive plays and eventually stalled the drive on the Kingston 24.

The Middies drove from Kingston's 47 to the 9 after recovering a fumble in the fourth period. A pass from Dick Mills to Rod Whitby was the sparkler in that sequence, going from the Kingston 43 to the 15. Mills flipped to Costantino on the Kingston 9 where LeFevre nailed the receiver. A fourth down pass went astray in the end zone.

Kingston was able to move unhampered between the 20 yard lines in the second half but the fire of the Curtis contest was missing in the paydirt area.

The Middies showed an excellent high school punter in Dick Mills, whose long spirals continually relieved the pressure on the Middie defense. Rod Whitby, the hard driving halfback and Dick Dineen, center, were also outstanding for the losers.

Massa Runs Well

With his running mate, Giles, sitting out most of the game because of injuries received in the Curtis game, Massa did most of the heavy running for Kingston. His sallies up the middle and cracks at the flanks from pitchouts gained consistently.

Poughkeepsie's jarring victory over Port Jervis established the slow starting Blues as a major factor in the DUSO pennant chase.

Newburgh Free Academy has to meet Poughkeepsie on the Bridge City gridiron this year and are in a position to give Kingston an unwilling helping hand.

NFA completed its conquest of the two major capital district powers with its 16-6 win over Albany High.

Katrine Club Warns Hunters

Officials of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club today warned hunters that the club's hunting preserve will be closed all this week and no hunting or running of dogs will be allowed in the area.

The preserve is being patrolled, a club statement said, and any members or other persons who pursue game of any kind on the premises will be subject to arrest.

The first pheasant shoot of the season will be held Sunday, Oct. 26, with registration at 8 a. m. All club members must sign out when leaving the preserve not later than 5 p. m.

Elstons Upset 3-0 by Veterans

Elston Sports Shop was the victim of a surprise 3-0 defeat by the Poughkeepsie Veteran Cabs, Saturday on the Central Rec drives.

The upset victory put the Cabbies only a game out of first place behind the league-leading Miron Lumber of Kingston. The Lumberjacks dropped one game at Walden.

Dick Rhea and Jake Charter gave the Cabs a one-two punch with 619 and 630 in the No. 4 and anchor slots and that was too much power for the locals.

Charter reeled off 214-191-214 and Rhea anchored with 202-224-204-630. Elston's best score was a 212-579 by Phil Corrado and Angelo Ferraro's 224-574.

Dick Howard Blasts 746 Series on Central Drives

SETTING UP A SCORE FOR THE GIANTS

New York Giants' John Amberg (right, foreground) wins race to recover a Chicago Cards fumble in first period of game at Polo Grounds. Recovery on 20-yard line set up a Giant touchdown on second play that followed. Identifiable players are Ray Krouse (70); Bill Albright (75, behind Amberg); Jon Baker (60) of Giants and Mike Mergen (73) of Cards. Cards scored an upset victory, 24-23.

Bags Fifth '700' Of Career With 235, 265 and 246

Has Compiled Five Big Series in One Year

Dick Howard found the range on his old stamping grounds in Sunday night's session of the Central Rec Mixed League and the result was the biggest explosion of the 1952-53 bowling season.

Firing 26 strikes on alleys 7 and 8, the slim, bespectacled sharpshooter reeled off successive solos of 235, 265 and 246 for one of the all-time local high series of 746.

Howard didn't find the "700" range until mid-season of the last campaign after nearly a decade of trying. But when he moved into the elite group, he proceeded to establish a unique record by shooting a pair of "700" scores in successive league forays in one day—afternoon and night. He is the only local bowler to hold that record.

His output for the 1951-52 season totalled four "700" triples, three on alleys 7 and 8 at the Central Recs and one on Nos. 3 and 4 at the Bowlodrome.

After a 235 opener, Howard continued his terrific pocket blasting. Midway in the second set he encountered the 8-10 (strike split) for a 265. The split marred a score sheet that showed only strikes in the middle game and deprived the mailman of a chance at the coveted "300."

The 246 finisher rounded out another big night in the young man's bowling history. It gave him a record of five "700" triples in less than a year in ABC sanctioned competition, a mark challenged only by Johnny Ferraro of Kingston and Nick Leoce and Tony Mack of Newburgh.

Howard compiled the series for his own Howard's squad in the Central Rec Mixer.

Joe "Bush" Sangi, brother of the Central Rec proprietor, trailed Howard in the individual standings with a 216—600. Ed McCaffrey knocked off 240—572. Tom Graham rolled 203—551; Frank Cirone 208—538; John Sangi 530, and Lottie Cashara 526.

M. McCaffrey led the women's division with 448 and Edna Peterson rolled 433; Gloria Graham 424.

Mirons Cop Two On Walden Alleys

Miron Lumber protected its Hudson Valley Bowling League lead with a 2-1 triumph over the Walden Merchants, Saturday night on the Orange county drives.

The two wins boosted the Lumberjacks' road record to eight games out of nine, their best in history.

The low scoring duel saw Johnny Ferraro pace the locals with a 574 series. He fired games of 232 and 200 but a 142 middle effort hobbled his chances for a big "600". Charlie Manfro furnished 210-570 and Larry Weishaupt had a 214.

Cards Upset Giants To Create Triple Tie

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—It appears likely the American Conference title of the National Football League won't be decided until the final weeks of play. But the National Conference race has developed into a one-team runaway.

Three clubs — the Cleveland Browns, Chicago Cardinals and New York Giants—are tied in the American Conference lead with 3-1 records. Right behind them are the Philadelphia Eagles and the Washington Redskins with 2-2 slates. Only the winless Pittsburgh Steelers (0-4) are hopelessly out of contention.

The pulverizing San Francisco 49ers top the National Conference with a 4-0 record. Two games in arrears are the Chicago Bears, Detroit Lions and Green Bay Packers, each 2-2. The defending champion Los Angeles Rams (1-3) and the Dallas Texans (0-4) trail the pack.

In yesterday's action, the Cardinals eked out a 24-23 conquest over the previously-unbeaten Giants. The Browns crushed the Eagles, 49-7, as Otto Graham tossed four touchdown passes. The victories enabled Cleveland and Chicago to jump into the triple-tie for first place with New York.

49ers Rout Bears

San Francisco, sparked by rookie Hugh McElhenny, scored a resounding 40-16 success over the Bears while the Lions remained in contention by vanquishing Los Angeles, 24-16. End Cloyce Box scored twice for Detroit.

The Redskins nipped Pittsburgh, 28-24, on Eddie Lebaron's TD toss in the final period. On Saturday night Green Bay thumped Dallas, 24-14.

Trailing, 23-17, in the fourth period, the Cardinals marched 71 yards to their winning touchdown that was set up by a 35-yard Dow Panciera aerial. On a fourth-down play Ollie Matson culminated the drive, sprinting six yards into pay dirt. Joe Geri booted the important extra point.

The Giants bolted right back and for a moment it looked as though they were going to pull it out. With 18 seconds left Ray Poole attempted a 29-yard field goal, but the kick was wide.

Powerful Penn Quakers Appear Cinch To Capture Ivy League Football Crown

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Penn's powerful Quakers just about have the Ivy League football championship in the bag today but they may have to wait until their final game of the season for the coronation.

Coach George Munger's Red and Blue terrors are tied with Yale for the lead but they have only one league game remaining while the boola boola boys have three to go, including one with Princeton's defending champions.

Penn closes out its Ivy season Nov. 27 against disappointing Cornell. Yale, after a non-league game against Lafayette Saturday, takes on Dartmouth. Princeton and Harvard. The Bulldogs figure to win all but the Princeton game.

Princeton, beaten by Penn two weeks ago, has five league games to play and should win them all. The Tigers can beat out Penn for the crown by winning all of their games while Penn drops its contest to Cornell.

The once-tied Quakers scored their third victory of unbeaten season Saturday by coming from behind to beat Columbia, 27-17. Penn scored the deciding touchdown in the last period, with the help of a pass interference penalty. Don Zimmer plunged over from the one to wipe out a 17-14 deficit. Later Penn intercepted a Columbia aerial and marched to another TD.

Yale turned back Cornell, 13-0, in the only other league game. The Bulldogs scored both of their touchdowns in the second period. Ed Molloy tallied the first six pointer, climaxing a 65-yard march he spearheaded with a brilliant passing display. A Cornell fumble led to the second touchdown.

In non-league games, Princeton bowled over Lafayette, 48-0, Dartmouth stopped Rutgers, 29-20, Harvard edged Colgate, 21-20, and Brown dropped a 46-0 decision to Holy Cross.

League games this Saturday find Princeton at Cornell and Dartmouth at Harvard. In non-league games, Brown takes on Rutgers, Columbia meets Army, Penn tangles with Navy and Yale engages Lafayette.

South and Coast Conference Have Nation's Top Squads This Year

BY ED CORRIGAN

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—It's a pity the South and the Far West did not schedule more intersectional games this season because those two sections are the class of college football as the campaign steams into the second half.

Except for Michigan State—the undisputed ruler of the country—and Oklahoma, the midwest has not showed any particular power. The Big Ten, in fact, does not boast an undefeated team. Wisconsin and Illinois were supposed to be loaded, but neither has played up to expectations.

Nor does the traditionally strong Southwest have anything to brag about. The Southwest conference does not have a team in the undefeated class. It hardly even has a favorite for the championship.

The East has lived up (or down) to expectations. Penn of the Ivy League, no less, heads the field and should win the loop title. Syracuse, which was figured to be about second best in the section, took a gruesome 48-7 mauling at the hands of Michigan State Saturday. The Orange was supposed to make it close.

But look at the coast and south. In the Pacific Coast Conference, there are no fewer than three outfits undefeated and untied—California, Southern California and U.C.L.A.—named in the order of their chances of staying that way.

All boast 5-0 records and all are hoping for the bid to the Rose Bowl, which goes to the winner of the league crown. One of them probably will bite the dust this week when Cal and Southern Cal meeet in Los Angeles.

Strong in South

In the south, the big boys, in their approximate order of ranking are Maryland, Georgia Tech, Duke and Virginia. The first three have won five games without a setback and Virginia has captured four.

Duke meets Virginia this week and Georgia Tech the next week. The Engineers should beat Duke, but the Blue Devils figure to rule the favorites over strong Virginia, the leading independent in the area.

In addition to the California-Southern California and Duke-Virginia games, the big ones this week will send Penn State against Michigan State in East Lansing, U.C.L.A. against Wisconsin at Madison and Purdue against Illinois at Urbana. The latter will be televised nationally.

In the Ivy League, Yale and Princeton could give Penn a tussle, but the Quakers seem to have too much all-round class. Houston leades the Missouri Valley, but Detroit could slip in, especially if it beats Oklahoma A. and M. this week. Defending champion Utah is the class of the Skyline Conference, while Idaho State just about wrapped up the Rocky Mountain Conference championship with its 46-16 triumph over Colorado State Saturday.

There were only two minor upsets Saturday. Notre Dame snapped up eight Purdue fumbles to win, 26-14, and Minnesota dropped Illinois, 13-7.

Otherwise the big boys just rolled along. Maryland dropped Navy from the ranks of the undefeated, 38-7; Oklahoma clouted Kansas, 42-20; California slugged Santa Clara, 27-7; Southern California whipped Oregon State, 28-6; U.C.L.A. thumped Stanford, 24-14; Georgia Tech whitewashed Auburn, 33-0; Michigan turned back Northwestern, 48-14; Penn downed Columbia, 27-17, and Tennessee defeated Alabama, 25-0.

American Basketball League Officials Expected to Okay Scandalized Stars

Elmira, Oct. 20 (AP)—Signs increased today that the American Basketball League would vote at its meeting Thursday to allow use of players involved in the college point-spread investigation.

Harl Robacher, president of the Elmira Colonels, said he expected favorable votes from Elmira, Jersey City, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre.

And Robert Gass, spokesman for the Saratoga-Harlem Yankees, said in Saratoga Springs his club favored allowing the former college players in the league.

Robacher said it was possible teams from Bridgeport, Conn., and Manchester, N. H., might enter the league. He said he did not know their attitude, or that of Hazelton, Pa., the sixth present member.

The National Basketball Association has barred such players for life. Maurice Podoloff, president of the NBA, has said no NBA team would be allowed to play exhibitions with or farm players to ABL teams which have such players.

Elmira has signed Bill Spivey, former All-American at the University of Kentucky, who is now under perjury indictment in New York in connection with the "fix" investigation.

Jersey City has signed Alex Groza and Ralph Beard, formerly of Kentucky, and Sherman White, formerly of Long Island University. Robacher said he understood Jersey City also had signed Gene Melchiorre, formerly of Bradley University.

All of these four players have admitted they took bribes from gamblers to fix point spreads in college games.

Badgers Gain With Trap on Tackle As Man in Middle Is Double-Teamed

By Famous Coaches Diagramed and Written for NEA Service

Wisconsin Coach

Ivy Williamson

CLEAN BREAK—The cut of the ball-carrier is to his right after being shaken loose down the middle. (NEA)

The right end flanker and right half block the men in the secondary as indicated in the diagram.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. FIANO

The most significant announcement since the Johnny Ferraro-Tony Sparando challenge match will come out of the Bowlodrome tomorrow. It's big stuff.

● Boxing TV—The Beautiful Illusion:

If the Dan Bucceroni-Dave Davey bout Friday night didn't convince you that boxing on TV can be a beautiful illusion, nothing ever will.

The final tally of Referee Ad Berle and the judges, indicating as remarkably close battle, must have stunned million of TV addicts watching the bout across the nation.

We don't know how you saw it, but to us Bucceroni looked in by a mile. That is until Johnny Addie made the official announcements.

Knowing boxing men have insisted and rightfully so, it seems, that the television cameras cannot faithfully convey to the videots the impact of infighting which is where most of the bigger boys do their heavy damage. It is difficult to tell how badly a boxer is being mauled unless he is struck with an obvious blow and falls to the canvas.

Since the TV cameras cannot probe through a boxer like an X-ray, it must necessarily follow that vital and dramatic happenings will often be lost to the viewers. For instance, the camera did not faithfully record the only knockdown in the Bucceroni-Davey contest. It happened in a corner at a bad angle for the cameraman. To you it might have seemed like a push or a slip. Instead it was a solid right to the chops.

These mechanical shortcomings of TV coverage of boxing will be overcome in the future. At the moment, however, it remains at best a beautiful illusion.

● About Two Kingston Men . . . Making Good:

Clarence S. Rowland, president of the Board of Education, and high school athletics' greatest benefactor, returned from a recent trip to Norfolk, Va., happy and pleased about the performance of two Kingstonians.

Frank Amato, a Kingston High School and Notre Dame graduate, is in his second year at a new Norfolk school of about 500 registration and doing a remarkable job as athletic director and coach.

Russ Cunningham, who was Coach Bill Burke's good right bower until the U. S. Navy asked him to return for an encore hitch, has been upped to full commander at the Norfolk Naval Station. He is in charge of harbor defense and according to information secured by Mr. Rowland is one of the most popular officers at the station.

"It is gratifying to see our young men go out and make their mark in other communities in the country," Rowland said upon his return to Kingston. "Frank Amato started out from scratch with a brand new school and in the short space of two years has compiled a fine record in the Norfolk area. We all know about Russ Cunningham's great record at Kingston High and we're happily looking forward to his return next September."

● Schirick Thought Colonials Could Score . . .

Perhaps the most moving testimonial to District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn at Bob Teetsel's Barn last week came from the man best qualified to deliver the eulogy—Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick.

The judge had Lou and his brother, Fritz, as batboys for the original Colonials—the finest baseball team ever to represent the city and one of the strongest squads in the history of semi-pro baseball.

The judge made some earthy, heart-warming remarks about the DA and in the course of his short speech had occasion to refer to the recent World Series and the Dodger dilemma in not being able to score with the bases loaded.

"That would never have happened to the Colonial teams for which you and Fritz were the batboys," the judge quipped to Lou. "I'm sure they would have managed to sneak in a couple runs somewhere along the line. . . . And I'm not too sure they wouldn't score them all." . . . The Giant rooters in the audience found comfort in the remarks and chuckled heartily.

A bouquet to Robert Steeger, 1952 secretary of the City Baseball League, for the most comprehensive battery of statistics ever submitted by a twilight league secretary. It was a big league job in a small town league.

Children Are Rescued

Bradenton, Fla., Oct. 20 (AP)—The coast guard early today rescued 40 children stranded since yesterday afternoon when a pleasure boat ran aground. The boat, Ranger III, struck a sandbar at the mouth of the Manatee river in Tampa Bay on the Florida west coast. The children and five adult chaperones—all from St. Petersburg—spent anxious hours waiting to be rescued while the coast guard rounded up small craft that could reached the boat stranded in shallow water.

Blowout Kills Man

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—A man was killed yesterday when a blown tire sent an automobile careening into two trees and a stone wall a mile and a half north of here. The dead man was identified as Amato Nicholino, 72, of Yonkers. The accident occurred on the Albany Post road.

Clark Refuses Any Armistice Talks

Tokyo, Oct. 20 (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark today bluntly refused to reopen Korean armistice talks on Communist terms.

In a strongly-worded message he told the top Red commanders in Korea the UN command will never agree to negotiate further on any proposal requiring forced repatriation of war prisoners.

The Communists Thursday submitted a plan for renewing the truce talks at Panmunjom.

Clark told them today it was the "same old package" and contained "nothing new or constructive."

The UNC suspended the talks indefinitely Oct. 8. Allied delegates said they would resume negotiations if and when the Reds accepted one of several UN plans to settle the prisoner issue or submitted a "constructive" proposal of their own in writing.

The prisoner exchange problem is the last barrier to a Korean armistice.

By Famous Coaches Diagramed and Written for NEA Service
By IVY WILLIAMSON
Wisconsin Coach

Madison, Wis.—(NEA)—One of Wisconsin's favorite running plays is a trap on the defensive tackle.

CLEAN BREAK—The cut of the ball-carrier is to his right after being shaken loose down the middle. (NEA)

The right end flanker and right half block the men in the secondary as indicated in the diagram.

The cut of the ball carrier is to his right after breaking clear down the middle.

SPORTS

The most significant announcement since the Johnny Ferraro-Tony Sparando challenge match will come out of the Bowlodrome tomorrow. It's big stuff.

● Boxing TV—The Beautiful Illusion:

If the Dan Bucceroni-Dave Davey bout Friday night didn't convince you that boxing on TV can be a beautiful illusion, nothing ever will.

The final tally of Referee Ad Berle and the judges, indicating as remarkably close battle, must have stunned million of TV addicts watching the bout across the nation.

We don't know how you saw it, but to us Bucceroni looked in by a mile. That is until Johnny Addie made the official announcements.

Knowing boxing men have insisted and rightfully so, it seems, that the television cameras cannot faithfully convey to the videots the impact of infighting which is where most of the bigger boys do their heavy damage. It is difficult to tell how badly a boxer is being mauled unless he is struck with an obvious blow and falls to the canvas.

Since the TV cameras cannot probe through a boxer like an X-ray, it must necessarily follow that vital and dramatic happenings will often be lost to the viewers. For instance, the camera did not faithfully record the only knockdown in the Bucceroni-Davey contest. It happened in a corner at a bad angle for the cameraman. To you it might have seemed like a push or a slip. Instead it was a solid right to the chops.

These mechanical shortcomings of TV coverage of boxing will be overcome in the future. At the moment, however, it remains at best a beautiful illusion.

● About Two Kingston Men . . . Making Good:

Clarence S. Rowland, president of the Board of Education, and high school athletics' greatest benefactor, returned from a recent trip to Norfolk, Va., happy and pleased about the performance of two Kingstonians.

Frank Amato, a Kingston High School and Notre Dame graduate, is in his second year at a new Norfolk school of about 500 registration and doing a remarkable job as athletic director and coach.

Russ Cunningham, who was Coach Bill Burke's good right bower until the U. S. Navy asked him to return for an encore hitch, has been upped to full commander at the Norfolk Naval Station. He is in charge of harbor defense and according to information secured by Mr. Rowland is one of the most popular officers at the station.

"It is gratifying to see our young men go out and make their mark in other communities in the country," Rowland said upon his return to Kingston. "Frank Amato started out from scratch with a brand new school and in the short space of two years has compiled a fine record in the Norfolk area. We all know about Russ Cunningham's great record at Kingston High and we're happily looking forward to his return next September."

● Schirick Thought Colonials Could Score . . .

Perhaps the most moving testimonial to District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn at Bob Teetsel's Barn last week came from the man best qualified to deliver the eulogy—Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick.

The judge had Lou and his brother, Fritz, as batboys for the original Colonials—the finest baseball team ever to represent the city and one of the strongest squads in the history of semi-pro baseball.

The judge made some earthy, heart-warming remarks about the DA and in the course of his short speech had occasion to refer to the recent World Series and the Dodger dilemma in not being able to score with the bases loaded.

"That would never have happened to the Colonial teams for which you and Fritz were the batboys," the judge quipped to Lou. "I'm sure they would have managed to sneak in a couple runs somewhere along the line. . . . And I'm not too sure they wouldn't score them all." . . . The Giant rooters in the audience found comfort in the remarks and chuckled heartily.

A bouquet to Robert Steeger, 1952 secretary of the City Baseball League, for the most comprehensive battery of statistics ever submitted by a twilight league secretary. It was a big league job in a small town league.

Children Are Rescued

Bradenton, Fla., Oct. 20 (AP)—The coast guard early today rescued 40 children stranded since yesterday afternoon when a pleasure boat ran aground. The boat, Ranger III, struck a sandbar at the mouth of the Manatee river in Tampa Bay on the Florida west coast. The children and five adult chaperones—all from St. Petersburg—spent anxious hours waiting to be rescued while the coast guard rounded up small craft that could reached the boat stranded in shallow water.

Blowout Kills Man

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—A man was killed yesterday when a blown tire sent an automobile careening into two trees and a stone wall a mile and a half north of here. The dead man was identified as Amato Nicholino, 72, of Yonkers. The accident occurred on the Albany Post road.

Clark Refuses Any Armistice Talks

Tokyo, Oct. 20 (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark today bluntly refused to reopen Korean armistice talks on Communist terms.

In a strongly-worded message he told the top Red commanders in Korea the UN command will never agree to negotiate further on any proposal requiring forced repatriation of war prisoners.

The Communists Thursday submitted a plan for renewing the truce talks at Panmunjom.

Clark told them today it was the "same old package" and contained "nothing new or constructive."

The UNC suspended the talks indefinitely Oct. 8. Allied delegates said they would resume negotiations if and when the Reds accepted one of several UN plans to settle the prisoner issue or submitted a "constructive" proposal of their own in writing.

The prisoner exchange problem is the last barrier to a Korean armistice.

Ground Is Broken For Rec Building

Woodstock, Oct. 20 — Ground was broken at the Woodstock Recreation Field for the building which will stand adjacent to the swimming pool, it was announced by Kenneth Wilson of the Recreation Committee. Funds for the first unit of the building, which will contain sanitary rooms, were raised last summer by the Woodstock health nursing committee. A total of $1,000 in cash, and $408 in materials and labor were raised by the PHNC for the project. The remainder of the money for the eventual construction of the entire building, which will include various recreation facilities, is being raised by the Woodstock Recreation Committee.

Last summer when the public health nursing committee started its recreation program for girls at the field, it was felt by members that provision for the proper sanitary facilities at the field was urgently needed, and in a few weeks many year-round and summer residents gave generous donations for the project. However, a more extensive building had been planned by the township recreation committee. Wilson then arranged with the nursing committee to have the first unit built with the funds raised. The building will be constructed at cost by Karl Schroeder, contractor.

The Woodstock Recreation Committee is continuing its drive for funds to cover the additional cost of the building. Contributions may be sent to the recreation committee at the Town Hall.

WBA Would Keep Post Office Open All Day Saturday

Woodstock, Oct. 20 — At the regular meeting of the Woodstock Business Association Wednesday night, a resolution was passed that Wayne Underhill, president, be appointed as a committee of one to consult with Howard Bell, postmaster, for the purpose of obtaining the necessary forms to petition the post office department to have the local office remain open all day Saturday. This proposal was discussed at the WBA about a year ago when several members brought up the subject and a petition was circulated. The majority of signers indicated at that time that they didn't think they needed it. However, members now feel that times have changed. The town is growing and for that reason it is felt that the post office should remain open all day Saturday.

A budget committee was appointed to make up a budget based on present income as related to the amount to be spent to publicize the fact that Woodstock is a year-round community. The budget committee consists of Joseph Deutsch, chairman; Warren Hutty and Karl Cousins, treasurer of the Association.

Other Discussions

Mordy Berkowitz submitted his report again concerning plans which the organization is suggesting for making the community a year-round one by introducing activities for fall, winter and spring. A lively discussion followed with many excellent ideas coming from the floor. The program committee's plan was adopted and Berkowitz was thanked for a fine report.

A program coordinating committee was appointed which will be a clearing house for various ideas suggested. Some of the plans may be in full swing by mid-November. Serving on the committee are Berkowitz, chairman, Carl Catalano, co-chairman, Hutty, Deutsch and Edgar Bauman.

In an effort to ascertain the number of accommodations available during the fall, winter and spring seasons, the housing committee learned that there are enough rooms in the village to take care of 300 people. It was suggested that those who have not already communicated with the Woodstock Business Association, do so if they have rooms available, and the information will be placed in the Association files.

New Articles Are Added at Crafts Cooperative Shop

Woodstock, Oct. 20—Many new interesting articles ranging from stenciled linens to light rock crystal star earrings, have been added to Crafts Cooperative by the various craftsmen, it was reported today.

The stenciled linens have been introducted by Mrs. M. D. Smith. One set, with a red table cloth, is combined with white napkins stenciled in gray, red and yellow. The other set, reverses the colors with white placemats decorated with the same stencil, teamed with the deep red napkins.

Eleanor McCaffrey's featherweight rock crystal star earrings, with all the sparkle of precious jewels, have been drawing considerable attention.

Popular Items Back

Another article, which proved popular during the summer, is the crib and small bed quilts in sunny yellow and white backgrounds, alternating with squares containing embroidered designs of little animals and flowers. There also are full-sized quilts in the antique sunburst and flower basket patterns created by Emily Schaffert.

Bill Miller's sizeable pottery teapot with a homey glaze, is straight out of a storybook, and a set of cups and saucers, sugar and creamer are offered in a variety of colors.

Angela Von Den Dreisch, whose woven cloths, mats and bags, are usually characterized by their pastel hues, has come out this fall with a line of brilliantly hued runners and scarves.

Miniature objects also are to be found among them Eleanor N. McCaffery's little copper and enamel salt dishes, in green and aqua glazes, complete with tiny silver spoons. Elsie Miller, volunteer shop attendant, pointed out a collection of small suede pouches in black, tan and brown, with narrow leather draw strings, finished with little ceramic buttons. "Everyone who comes in has a different idea for their use," she said. "Some say they are for jewelry, some for children's pocketbooks, or little evening bags." They are made by Gerta Steurer and Rosabell MacDonald.

Christmas cards, both for envelope enclosures and single postal cards, are by Eva Corbin and Edith Cook.

Classes Started In Silk Printing

Woodstock, Oct. 20—The second term of classes in silk screen printing began Thursday night at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, under the auspices of the State Adult Education program. With Jerry Jerominek again serving as instructor, a number of new students were introduced to the elementary techniques of the process.

Also attending the class was Rosemary Bare, who began her studies in silk screening at the Guild last year. Mrs. Bare this fall demonstrated the practical use of the slik screen process. She designed the remarkable four-color program for the Foundation play Ten Nights in A Bar Room, 1,200 copies of which were printed by Jerominek with the aid of a hard-working crew of volunteers. Mrs. Bare and Jerominek are at present working on an eye-catching new line of Christmas cards, from one of her children's illustrations from a book on Poland, which will be an ambitious project requiring five screens.

Although not at liberty at the moment to disclose details, Mrs. Bare and Jerominek possibly have in the offing a large, exciting project which if it materilizes, is quite likely to place the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen decidedly on the map as a silk screen center.

There are still a number of openings in the silk screen class, which is held every Tuesday and Thursday at the Guild from 7:30 to 10 p. m.

Waiter Is Injured

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Louis Garcia, 37-year-old waiter at the Hotel New Yorker, of Astoria, Queens, was seriously injured early today when he was struck by an automobile as he was crossing Eighth avenue at 34th street en route home. Police arrested Ago Ambre, 23, of 144 West 95th street, a senior of City College, on charges of third degree assault and driving without a license. Police also gave Evelyn L. Grieb, 23, a nurse at Roslyn Park Hospital, Roslyn, N. Y., a summons returnable October 28 for allowing an unlicensed driver to operate her car.

Transports Are Due

San Francisco, Oct. 20 (AP)—Two military transports arrived today from the Pacific area and a third docks tomorrow. Docking today are the Marine Serpent with 2,637 servicemen, most of them from Korea, and the Sgt. Charles E. Mower from Hawaii. The Gen. Nelson M. Walker arrives tomorrow from the Far East.

23 Persons Are Killed

Liberals Support Greek Rally Party

Athens, Greece, Oct. 20 (AP)—Field Marshal Alexander Papagos' Greek Rally Party, biggest in the last Parliament but lacking a majority, had the support today of 24 prominent Liberals for the Nov. 16 parliamentary elections.

The group included former Premier Emmanuel Tsouderos and 11 other former cabinet ministers.

In a statement they said they were bolting the government coalition of Liberals and Left-of-Center Progressives because Greece is "going through one of the most critical moments in her history and is badly in need of a strong parliamentary majority and a homogenous, steady government."

In the last parliamentary voting, Sept. 9, 1951, the Papagos faction won 114 of the 258 seats but refused to join coalition. The government was formed by the Liberal-Progressive alliance. Holding only 129 seats—exactly half the membership—the government had to depend on independent support which was not always forthcoming.

When cuts in American financial aid worsened Greece's already acute economic situation, the insecure cabinet was unable to take strong steps. After widespread demands for a new election, King Paul dissolved Parliament Oct. 7 and ordered the balloting.

Ground Is Broken For Rec Building

Woodstock, Oct. 20 — Ground was broken at the Woodstock Recreation Field for the building which will stand adjacent to the swimming pool, it was announced by Kenneth Wilson of the Recreation Committee. Funds for the first unit of the building, which will contain sanitary rooms, were raised last summer by the Woodstock health nursing committee. A total of $1,000 in cash, and $408 in materials and labor were raised by the PHNC for the project. The remainder of the money for the eventual construction of the entire building, which will include various recreation facilities, is being raised by the Woodstock Recreation Committee.

Last summer when the public health nursing committee started its recreation program for girls at the field, it was felt by members that provision for the proper sanitary facilities at the field was urgently needed, and in a few weeks many year-round and summer residents gave generous donations for the project. However, a more extensive building had been planned by the township recreation committee. Wilson then arranged with the nursing committee to have the first unit built with the funds raised. The building will be constructed at cost by Karl Schroeder, contractor.

The Woodstock Recreation Committee is continuing its drive for funds to cover the additional cost of the building. Contributions may be sent to the recreation committee at the Town Hall.

WBA Would Keep Post Office Open All Day Saturday

Woodstock, Oct. 20 — At the regular meeting of the Woodstock Business Association Wednesday night, a resolution was passed that Wayne Underhill, president, be appointed as a committee of one to consult with Howard Bell, postmaster, for the purpose of obtaining the necessary forms to petition the post office department to have the local office remain open all day Saturday. This proposal was discussed at the WBA about a year ago when several members brought up the subject and a petition was circulated. The majority of signers indicated at that time that they didn't think they needed it. However, members now feel that times have changed. The town is growing and for that reason it is felt that the post office should remain open all day Saturday.

A budget committee was appointed to make up a budget based on present income as related to the amount to be spent to publicize the fact that Woodstock is a year-round community. The budget committee consists of Joseph Deutsch, chairman; Warren Hutty and Karl Cousins, treasurer of the Association.

Other Discussions

Mordy Berkowitz submitted his report again concerning plans which the organization is suggesting for making the community a year-round one by introducing activities for fall, winter and spring. A lively discussion followed with many excellent ideas coming from the floor. The program committee's plan was adopted and Berkowitz was thanked for a fine report.

A program coordinating committee was appointed which will be a clearing house for various ideas suggested. Some of the plans may be in full swing by mid-November. Serving on the committee are Berkowitz, chairman, Carl Catalano, co-chairman, Hutty, Deutsch and Edgar Bauman.

In an effort to ascertain the number of accommodations available during the fall, winter and spring seasons, the housing committee learned that there are enough rooms in the village to take care of 300 people. It was suggested that those who have not already communicated with the Woodstock Business Association, do so if they have rooms available, and the information will be placed in the Association files.

New Articles Are Added at Crafts Cooperative Shop

Woodstock, Oct. 20—Many new interesting articles ranging from stenciled linens to light rock crystal star earrings, have been added to Crafts Cooperative by the various craftsmen, it was reported today.

The stenciled linens have been introducted by Mrs. M. D. Smith. One set, with a red table cloth, is combined with white napkins stenciled in gray, red and yellow. The other set, reverses the colors with white placemats decorated with the same stencil, teamed with the deep red napkins.

Eleanor McCaffrey's featherweight rock crystal star earrings, with all the sparkle of precious jewels, have been drawing considerable attention.

Popular Items Back

Another article, which proved popular during the summer, is the crib and small bed quilts in sunny yellow and white backgrounds, alternating with squares containing embroidered designs of little animals and flowers. There also are full-sized quilts in the antique sunburst and flower basket patterns created by Emily Schaffert.

Bill Miller's sizeable pottery teapot with a homey glaze, is straight out of a storybook, and a set of cups and saucers, sugar and creamer are offered in a variety of colors.

Angela Von Den Dreisch, whose woven cloths, mats and bags, are usually characterized by their pastel hues, has come out this fall with a line of brilliantly hued runners and scarves.

Miniature objects also are to be found among them Eleanor N. McCaffery's little copper and enamel salt dishes, in green and aqua glazes, complete with tiny silver spoons. Elsie Miller, volunteer shop attendant, pointed out a collection of small suede pouches in black, tan and brown, with narrow leather draw strings, finished with little ceramic buttons. "Everyone who comes in has a different idea for their use," she said. "Some say they are for jewelry, some for children's pocketbooks, or little evening bags." They are made by Gerta Steurer and Rosabell MacDonald.

Christmas cards, both for envelope enclosures and single postal cards, are by Eva Corbin and Edith Cook.

Classes Started In Silk Printing

Woodstock, Oct. 20—The second term of classes in silk screen printing began Thursday night at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, under the auspices of the State Adult Education program. With Jerry Jerominek again serving as instructor, a number of new students were introduced to the elementary techniques of the process.

Also attending the class was Rosemary Bare, who began her studies in silk screening at the Guild last year. Mrs. Bare this fall demonstrated the practical use of the slik screen process. She designed the remarkable four-color program for the Foundation play Ten Nights in A Bar Room, 1,200 copies of which were printed by Jerominek with the aid of a hard-working crew of volunteers. Mrs. Bare and Jerominek are at present working on an eye-catching new line of Christmas cards, from one of her children's illustrations from a book on Poland, which will be an ambitious project requiring five screens.

Although not at liberty at the moment to disclose details, Mrs. Bare and Jerominek possibly have in the offing a large, exciting project which if it materilizes, is quite likely to place the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen decidedly on the map as a silk screen center.

There are still a number of openings in the silk screen class, which is held every Tuesday and Thursday at the Guild from 7:30 to 10 p. m.

Waiter Is Injured

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Louis Garcia, 37-year-old waiter at the Hotel New Yorker, of Astoria, Queens, was seriously injured early today when he was struck by an automobile as he was crossing Eighth avenue at 34th street en route home. Police arrested Ago Ambre, 23, of 144 West 95th street, a senior of City College, on charges of third degree assault and driving without a license. Police also gave Evelyn L. Grieb, 23, a nurse at Roslyn Park Hospital, Roslyn, N. Y., a summons returnable October 28 for allowing an unlicensed driver to operate her car.

Transports Are Due

San Francisco, Oct. 20 (AP)—Two military transports arrived today from the Pacific area and a third docks tomorrow. Docking today are the Marine Serpent with 2,637 servicemen, most of them from Korea, and the Sgt. Charles E. Mower from Hawaii. The Gen. Nelson M. Walker arrives tomorrow from the Far East.

23 Persons Are Killed

Johannesburg, South Africa, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Durban-Johannesburg passenger train was derailed on an embankment in Natal today, killing 23 passengers and injuring 37 others. The leading coach plunged off the embankment first and dragged others with it.

Liberals Support Greek Rally Party

Athens, Greece, Oct. 20 (AP)—Field Marshal Alexander Papagos' Greek Rally Party, biggest in the last Parliament but lacking a majority, had the support today of 24 prominent Liberals for the Nov. 16 parliamentary elections.

The group included former Premier Emmanuel Tsouderos and 11 other former cabinet ministers.

In a statement they said they were bolting the government coalition of Liberals and Left-of-Center Progressives because Greece is "going through one of the most critical moments in her history and is badly in need of a strong parliamentary majority and a homogenous, steady government."

In the last parliamentary voting, Sept. 9, 1951, the Papagos faction won 114 of the 258 seats but refused to join coalition. The government was formed by the Liberal-Progressive alliance. Holding only 129 seats—exactly half the membership—the government had to depend on independent support which was not always forthcoming.

When cuts in American financial aid worsened Greece's already acute economic situation, the insecure cabinet was unable to take strong steps. After widespread demands for a new election, King Paul dissolved Parliament Oct. 7 and ordered the balloting.

IkeSaysDemocrats

Truman had drawn on a warm clear day.

Eisenhower said the greatest threat to peace would be an economic collapse which would play into the hands of the Communists.

"We must pledge all our strength against the recurrence of the crime of depression," he asserted.

Eisenhower walked from the train to a truck trailer platform a few yards from the train, and snow flurries fell as he talked.

The crowd chanted, "we want Ike." And one banner in the crowd said: "No minks — no pinks." There were placards, too, from neighboring towns of Greenwich and Pound Ridge, N. Y.

Adlai Backers Say

dignation at Hiss' infamous deeds."

The eight who signed yesterday's statement said that "Eisenhower, of all people, should understand how unjust and unwarranted are the current attacks on Governor Stevenson for his deposition in the first trial of Alger Hiss."

In New York, James Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary commented:

"To paraphrase Shakespeare, methinks the gentleman's friends protest too much."

Man, 56, Pulled From Rondout Creek

A second man within a week was pulled from the Rondout creek after he had fallen from the dock in back of the W. F. Carvell Inc., building at 58 Ferry street.

Police identified the second victim of an accidental plunge into the chilly waters of the creek, as George Simmons, 56, of Mill street, who was hauled out by two members of the crew of a tug of the Callanan Road Improvement Co.

A few days ago Virgil Sampson, 75, of Abeel street, was pulled from the creek at the same spot after he had fallen off the dock.

Police said Simmons was narrowly missed by the fluke of the tug's propeller, was the boat, which had been near the dock, started moving away shortly before noon Saturday. The tug backed up and the two members of its crew pulled Simmons out of the water.

Dodger Hurler Accused

Newark, N. J., Oct. 20 (AP)—A Newark girl has sworn out a complaint charging Billy Loes, Brooklyn Dodger pitcher, with fathering her as yet unborn child, Magistrate Harry A. Pine said today. Pine said he could not disclose the name of the unmarried girl, who was described as dark, attractive, 20 years old and "a nice girl." Michael O'Connor, court clerk in Magistrate Pine's first precinct court, said the complaint was filed Friday. In it, he said, the girl alleged that she met Loes, rookie right hander, last spring in Miami, Fla., while Loes was training with the Dodgers.

Area Has Its First Light Snowfall

The snow here, amounted to only a few scattered squalls.

Temperatures dropped to below freezing in many parts of the state, and in some areas light rain turned to flakes which melted on contact with the ground, the weather bureau reported.

One or two inches of wet snow were reported, however, in areas near lakes Erie and Ontario and in the high Adirondacks and Catskills.

A cold snap, probably concentrated in the Hudson river valley, will bring temperatures in the 20's and low 30's tonight, the bureau said, but warmer temperatures were forecast for tomorrow.

The low temperature here yesterday was 42 degrees at 11:45 p. m., and the high at noon was 63.

Blinded by Lights

An automobile owned and operated by Michael F. Quinn, 51, of Box 396, Kingston, was badly damaged about 7 p. m. Saturday when it ran off on the soft shoulder of Route 32 in the town of Rosendale, swerved back across the highway and turned over, Deputy Sheriff Chester A. Wolven reported. Quinn told the deputy that the accident occurred when he tried to avoid hitting an oncoming vehicle whose lights blinded him, according to the sheriff's office report. No personal injuries were reported.

IkeSaysDemocrats

Truman had drawn on a warm clear day.

Eisenhower said the greatest threat to peace would be an economic collapse which would play into the hands of the Communists.

"We must pledge all our strength against the recurrence of the crime of depression," he asserted.

Eisenhower walked from the train to a truck trailer platform a few yards from the train, and snow flurries fell as he talked.

The crowd chanted, "we want Ike." And one banner in the crowd said: "No minks — no pinks." There were placards, too, from neighboring towns of Greenwich and Pound Ridge, N. Y.

A short time later at Norwalk, another large crowd was waiting.

Adlai Backers Say

dignation at Hiss' infamous deeds."

The eight who signed yesterday's statement said that "Eisenhower, of all people, should understand how unjust and unwarranted are the current attacks on Governor Stevenson for his deposition in the first trial of Alger Hiss."

In New York, James Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary commented:

29th Polio Case

The year's 29th case of polio was reported to the Ulster County Health Department this morning. The patient is a boy, 15, who is a resident of this county, and who is now being treated at a hospital. The case was the first reported in the county since Sept. 12. Of the 29 cases reported since Jan. 1, 27 have been resident cases and two non-resident.

Man, 56, Pulled From Rondout Creek

A second man within a week was pulled from the Rondout creek after he had fallen from the dock in back of the W. F. Carvell Inc., building at 58 Ferry street.

Police identified the second victim of an accidental plunge into the chilly waters of the creek, as George Simmons, 56, of Mill street, who was hauled out by two members of the crew of a tug of the Callanan Road Improvement Co.

A few days ago Virgil Sampson, 75, of Abeel street, was pulled from the creek at the same spot after he had fallen off the dock.

Police said Simmons was narrowly missed by the fluke of the tug's propeller, was the boat, which had been near the dock, started moving away shortly before noon Saturday. The tug backed up and the two members of its crew pulled Simmons out of the water.

Dodger Hurler Accused

Newark, N. J., Oct. 20 (AP)—A Newark girl has sworn out a complaint charging Billy Loes, Brooklyn Dodger pitcher, with fathering her as yet unborn child, Magistrate Harry A. Pine said today. Pine said he could not disclose the name of the unmarried girl, who was described as dark, attractive, 20 years old and "a nice girl." Michael O'Connor, court clerk in Magistrate Pine's first precinct court, said the complaint was filed Friday. In it, he said, the girl alleged that she met Loes, rookie right hander, last spring in Miami, Fla., while Loes was training with the Dodgers.

County Vols Will Meet

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will meet at Woodstock Thursday night. The regular meeting night is the third Tuesday of the month, but this month was changed. The November meeting will be held in New Paltz.

Area Has Its First Light Snowfall

The area had its first light fall of snow today as northerly winds scattered snow over the state's western counties and mountainous regions during the early hours.

The snow here, amounted to only a few scattered squalls.

Temperatures dropped to below freezing in many parts of the state, and in some areas light rain turned to flakes which melted on contact with the ground, the weather bureau reported.

One or two inches of wet snow were reported, however, in areas near lakes Erie and Ontario and in the high Adirondacks and Catskills.

A cold snap, probably concentrated in the Hudson river valley, will bring temperatures in the 20's and low 30's tonight, the bureau said, but warmer temperatures were forecast for tomorrow.

The low temperature here yesterday was 42 degrees at 11:45 p. m., and the high at noon was 63.

Blinded by Lights

An automobile owned and operated by Michael F. Quinn, 51, of Box 396, Kingston, was badly damaged about 7 p. m. Saturday when it ran off on the soft shoulder of Route 32 in the town of Rosendale, swerved back across the highway and turned over, Deputy Sheriff Chester A. Wolven reported. Quinn told the deputy that the accident occurred when he tried to avoid hitting an oncoming vehicle whose lights blinded him, according to the sheriff's office report. No personal injuries were reported.

Funeral Rites Planned

Omaha, Oct. 20 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for Francis P. Matthews of Omaha, ambassador to Ireland and former secretary of the navy. Matthews died unexpectedly here Saturday. Funeral arrangements for Matthews had been delayed pending arrival of Mrs. Matthews and a daughter, Marguerite, who came here by plane from Ireland early today. Matthews, 65, was stricken with a heart attack during a visit to his home.
